Palestine Armistice Ordered

U. N. Again Demands Peace

PARIS — (U.P.) — The United Nations Security council today called on the Arabs and Jews to negotiate a permanent armistice in Palestine and again ordered the Jews to leave their recently-seized territory in the Negev.

Acting in the face of fresh Arab and Jewish defiance, the Security council took four votes to approve the armistice plan in sections. By a vote of 8 to 0 with Russia, the Ukraine and Syria abstaining, it adopted two parts of the armistice plan. By a third vote of 8 to 1 with Russia and the Ukraine abstaining, it adopted the part calling for the armistice. Syria voted against the armistice clause.

The Jews welcomed the call for armistice negotiations as the first step toward a formal peace settlement, but their refusal to leave the Negev, even temporarily, confronted the council with new troubles, even before the resolution was passed.

DEMAND ACTION

The council order called on the Arabs and Jews to negotiate forthwith, either directly or through Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting UN mediator, for:

1. A delineation of "permanent armistice demarcation lines beyond which the armed forces of the respective parties shall not move."

2. "Such withdrawal and reduction of their armed forces" as will insure a permanent halt in the Palestine fighting.

The western powers jammed the blueprint through the council as the political committee of the UN swung into full debate on how to find a political settlement in Palestine. In both debates, Arab diplomats warned grimly that the Arab nations still are determined to wipe out the Jewish state in Palestine.

In the Security council, a fourth vote was made necessary by a last-ditch Syrian attempt to extend the reaffirmed withdrawal order for the Negev to include Galilee as well. Belgium, China and Syria voted in favor of this. The other eight nations abstained, and the move was of course defeated by lack of support.

The council also voted down a more extensive Russian proposal to order direct "formal peace negotiations" between the Jews and the Arabs. The Soviet move was rejected in two sections, with only Russia and the Ukraine voting for it, and the other nine abstaining.

Court Hears Fraud Case

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Helen Campbell, ex-secretary to Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R) N. J., is scheduled to respond today in federal court to charges that she conspired with her former boss to defraud the government.

Miss Campbell and Thomas, chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee, are under indictment as a result of a grand jury's investigation of salary "kickback" charges against the congressman.

Thomas pleaded "not guilty" to the charges Monday at a surprise arraignment and was held in $1,000 bail until his trial, set for Jan. 10.

If a guilty verdict is returned against them, the charge carries a possible penalty of two years imprisonment or a $10,000 fine or both. In addition, Thomas also is under indictment on three counts of filing false statements in connection with the Un-American Activities' committee payroll.

Two Die In Crash

TOLEDO—(AP)—A man and a woman were killed last night in a grade crossing crash near here. State highway patrolmen identified them tentatively as Charles Keebush of Lansing, Mich., and his wife, Collate.

Flames Sweep Martin Steel, Damage Placed at $100,000

Teachers Get $150 Increase

Board Votes Pay Adjustment

Teachers and other employes of Mansfield public schools are going to get from $100 to $150 more than they expected this year.

The board of education last night voted the cost of living pay adjustments for a total of 366 employes of the school system.

The salary adjustments will add $55,000 to the school payroll for the year. Payments of the lump sum will be made starting Dec. 15, Clerk John H. Eisaman said.

Teachers and employes who joined the school system last year or earlier will receive the $150 increase. Personnel who joined the staff at the beginning of this term will receive $100, and other employes who recently were added to the staff will be compensated on the basis of their length of employment with the schools.

Eisaman said about 300 employes are eligible for the $150 adjustment.

Last year, teachers and other staff members received a $100 pay adjustment.

The 1948 adjustment was proposed by Board Member Harold A. Bruce after a study of the schools' financial condition.

Bruce said: "We want the employes to know we are conscious of their financial problems."

TAX REVENUE UP

Eisaman said an increase in funds available to the schools made the boost possible. The schools have had no serious emergencies so far during the year to consume operating funds. Personal property taxes have provided more school revenue than anticipated, he added.

Two additional individual salary adjustments were approved by the board.

Miss Margaret Kuppinger, a first grade teacher at Bowman school, was found to have completed work for her Master's degree, and her salary was adjusted accordingly.

An adjustment was also approved for Donald Tennant, an instructor of music at John Simpson junior high school, for his acquisition of at least six units of credit during the summer.

The resignation of Mrs. Louise Cornish, a teacher on leave from Bowman school, was accepted by the school board.

Workers Idled By Blaze

Fire gutted a part of the main building of the Martin Steel Products company late yesterday, causing damage estimated at nearly $100,000 and halting operations at the plant.

Company spokesmen said the plant's equipment would be idled for 10 days or two weeks although limited operations will be resumed as soon as electrical service can be restored.

The company employs 118 persons, many of whom will be idle until operations are resumed, company spokesmen said.

Starting near the men's room at the rear of the steel and wood building, the flames quickly spread through the big structure. Electrical wiring and large quantities of bolts used in the manufacture of metal farm buildings were destroyed.

REBUILDING NECESSARY

Carl Oberlin, president of the firm, said the building was so badly damaged that a part of it will have to be rebuilt.

The flames were discovered by employes about 4:25 p. m. Five fire trucks and men from three stations responded to the alarm. Clouds of dense smoke hindered the firemen who worked for more than an hour before the fire was under control.

At 5:30 Fire Chief L. J. Steele sounded a general alarm. Firemen who had been off duty reported to the scene.

Harold Huffman jr., 343½ Sturges avenue, a draftsman at the plant, was among the first employes to see the flames.

"I was coming out of the engineering office at the front of the building and when I looked toward the back of the building, I saw the whole rear section on fire," he said.

Firemen laid 4,000 feet of hose. From Central station two pumpers and a ladder truck responded to the alarm. Engines from Stations No. 2 and No. 3 also arrived. Station No. 5 covered Central station during the four-hour period firemen fought the fire.

PRESSURE LOW

Because the hydrant lines on Longview avenue are only four inches in diameter, pressure was hard to maintain. Water from the hydrants had to be forced through the engine pumpers to build up enough pressure.

An eight-inch line is scheduled to be constructed in the Longview avenue area.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined. Insurance underwriters are investigating.

The fire last night was the third at the Martin plant within the past 18 years. A fire in 1930 caused considerable damage and forced the company to suspend operations for several days.

Another fire during the war, when the plant was operated by the Stran Steel corporation, caused curtailment of production for a short time.

Worker Shot Accidentally

Hospital Says Condition 'Fair'

A 29-year-old millwright who accidentally shot himself in the abdomen at the Empire Steel plant yesterday as he attempted to put a .32 calibre automatic into his locker, was reported in "fair" condition at General hospital today.

The victim, Charles Carroll, 354 East Second street, underwent surgery at the hospital shortly after the accident which occurred shortly after 4 p. m.

A. L. Allen, personnel manager at the plant, said today that co-workers said Carroll had been hunting with the gun and intended to raffle it off at the plant.

Allen said that Carroll had taken the clip out of the gun, but had apparently forgotten about a single shell left in the chamber of the gun. There were no witnesses to the accident.

Report Royal Mother, Baby 'Doing Fine'

LONDON—(AP)—All was reported well today with Princess Elizabeth and her new son as relatives gathered to peek at the two-day-old prince who may be Britain's next king.

Royal physicians have issued no bulletins since yesterday morning, but the very absence of further announcement was accepted as a sign that the condition of Elizabeth and her baby continues to be satisfactory.

Sir John Weir and Sir William Gilliatt, who assisted at the birth, called at Buckingham palace last night to see the princess.

Subpena 22 In Probe

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— Twenty-two of the nation's top industrialists were under subpena today to testify in a sweeping investigation of an alleged giant trust involving some of the country's biggest firms.

Those called to testify, beginning tomorrow, include Alfred P. Sloan, board chairman of General Motors corporation, and the heads of the GM auto division of Cadillac, Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Chevrolet and GM truck and coach.

Others subpenaed include executives of Ethyl corporation, U. S. Rubber, Bendix Aviation, North American Aviation, Remington Arms and Kinetic Chemicals, incorporated.

Agents of the justice department's anti-trust division indicated that the investigation would inquire closely into operations of E. I. Dupont De Nemours corporation, whose records were subpeenaed last Sept. 24 along with those of General Motors, Ethyl, U. S. Rubber, Bendix, North American Aviation, and Kinetic Chemical.

ROB LOAN COMPANY

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Two sportily dressed men held up the Ohio Loan Discount company yesterday and escaped with $2,700, police reported. One of them held three women clerks and the assistant manager with a gun while the other gathered in the cash from four tills.

It'll Cost You!

Thanksgiving Bird Quoted at 85 Cents

If you want turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner, you're going to pay more for it this holiday season.

The big birds are being quoted right now at 85 cents per pound. Whether or not they'll go up or down before Thanksgiving day arrives, is disputable.

Of course, 85 cents is the price for this year's young hens, weighing from eight to 12 pounds. The bigger and tougher toms may be had for 75 cents. Last year at the annual fall holiday choice turkeys were selling for as low as 72 cents per pound and there were some that could be had for 69 cents.

While 85 cents is the quoted price in this area, meat market dealers here say that outside this area, turkeys will be even higher because of the scarcity.

One turkey raiser in this area has about 7,000 birds which will be ready for Thanksgiving trade. He began dressing turkeys in August for hotel and restaurant trade and has been employing six people for this job since then. However, there'll be turkeys on his farm until the first of the year.

There's one bright spot in the Thanksgiving price picture, however. If you're not one of the persons who says "Turkey for Thanksgiving, regardless of price," you may be able to enjoy a nice pork roast at much less. Pork that a week ago sold for 85 cents has come down to 75 and may go even lower, according to meat dealers here.

The cranberries to go with your Thanksgiving dinner will be at least 29 cents per pound. And they'll probably be higher as Thanksgiving day draws near and the demand increases, merchants say.

Wink At Gambling

Mayor Backs Schwab's 'Duck'

Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab ducked comment yesterday on the possibility of police action to curb the wide open illegal gambling operations that are flourishing in the city.

"I do not reveal the movements of the police department," he said

And Mayor Roy W. Vaughn backed up the chief, declaring: "I think that the chief is doing a good job, and I'll support him in whatever he does."

Since February, when the gambling shut down for eight weeks, the police department has failed to prosecute the gamblers, except for two token raids on small time card games.

At present a horse bookie, card games, dice games, are operating in the open, along with punchboards and poker sheets.

RODZINSKI IN HOSPITAL

LONDON — (AP) — Arthur Rodzinski, the American conductor, is suffering from pneumonia and is in a suburban nursing home.

Four Dealers Take Lead

Stores Agree To Ban Vulgar Comics

Four Mansfield dealers in the Glessner-Marion avenue district, have taken the initiative in agreeing to remove objectionable comic books from their stands, if so requested by a committee or individual parents, R. Y. Davis, Johnny Appleseed junior high school teacher, said today.

The four are LaTurner's, and Doc Cole's on Glessner avenue and the VenMar and Shaw's on Marion avenue. Davis visited each of these four stores last night and found owner's "very cooperative."

"Already the VenMar, owned by Miss Mae King, has taken 20 books off its stands and 30 have been removed from the stand's at Shaw's on Marion avenue," Davis said.

The move by the four Mansfield stores is a part of the campaign against objectionable comic books being waged by the Parent-Teacher associations of the city. The movement was started by Davis when he addressed a group of P-TA members at the Rebecca Grubaugh school recently.

The printing and distribution of comic books has grown to huge proportions in the past few years, Davis said today.

"In 1941 there were 10,000,000 copies being distributed to news stands each month," he said. "Today there are 60,000,000 copies being sold and about 200 different varieties of books."

Representatives of mothers clubs throughout the city will meet with the Rebecca Grubaugh school tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. at the school gymnasium to participate in a discussion on the books. Speakers will be Floyd Dent, area scout commissioner Arthur L. Glattke, superintendent of the Ohio State reformatory, Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Rape-Slaying Suspect Held

BOULDER, Colo. — (INS) — Boulder authorities awaited today the outcome of blood tests in Ogden, Utah, where a salesman is held for questioning in connection with the murder of a Colorado university co-ed.

Sheriff Arthur Everson was advised that Ogden authorities had arrested the man as a suspect in the slaying of 18-year-old Theresa Foster, who was bludgeoned and strangled last Tuesday night near Boulder.

Blood stains found on the man's coat and shoes will be studied to determine if they could have any connection with the girl's killing.

Police Hearings

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Sixteen Columbus policemen were ordered to appear today for hearings on whether they should be honorably discharged for physical disability. They would receive $160-a-month pensions, Safety Director Charles C. Cole said.

2-Year-Old Wrecks Auto, Injures Five

AKRON—(INS)—It will be a long time before two-year-old Richard Lee Moore rides in the front seat of the family auto again.

The youngster, who lives near Barberton, grabbed the steering wheel from his mother, Mrs. Anna B. Moore, yesterday, sending the car headon into another auto and injuring five persons, one seriously.

William F. Forgie, of Lakewood, driver of the other car, was treated at Barberton's Citizens' hospital for broken ribs and face injuries. The other four were injured only slightly.

Posse Seeks Four After Jailbreak

Escapers Armed With Shotguns

NEW LEXINGTON — (U.P.) — A 50-man posse was formed today to renew the search for four men who escaped from the Perry county jail here yesterday while the sheriff was rabbit hunting.

The posse included sheriff's deputies from Perry and surrounding counties and a score of state highway patrolmen.

Officers believed that the four fugitives may be posing as hunters, since they would attract little attention with their shotguns. The hunting season on rabbits, pheasants and ruffled grouse opened yesterday.

Sheriff Clair Butts said the break occurred when High Dobbins, 39, of Rendville, a trusty at the jail, obtained keys to the cells and released three other prisoners. Sheriff Butts identified the other three as Clyde Kelley, 26, of Vincent, William Godfellow, 19, of New Lexington, and Robert Romine, 23, of Rendville.

Meanwhile, the state highway patrol deployed men throughout southeastern Ohio in a hunt for four men who kidnaped and robbed a Perry county couple last night.

The kidnapers fitted the description of the four prisoners who escaped from the Perry county jail yesterday, the highway patrol station at Marietta reported.

John Sidwell, 25, and his wife, 26, told the patrol they were kidnaped at 9:30 o'clock last night from in front of their home at Crooksville, Perry county. The abductors took their car and abandoned them in a field near Chesterhill in Morgan county.

The Sidwells said the four men were armed with two shotguns and fitted the description of the Perry county jail fugitives.

Noted Medico Dies

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Dr. William H. Bradford, 47-year-old exchief medical officer and later manager of Brecksville Veterans' hospital, is dead. His death yesterday came just three days after that of his brother, Roark Bradford, author of the book used as a basis for the stage hit "Green Pastures," in New Orleans.

4 Lives Claimed In Ohio

Gamble Shot Near LaRue

Nineteen-year-old James M. Gamble of Shelby and three other Ohioans lost their lives yesterday on the first day of the hunting season. At least four other persons were injured.

The Gamble youth was shot fatally with his own gun near LaRue in Marion county. His accidental death occurred just a week after he was placed on five years probation in Richland county common pleas court on a manslaughter charge.

Young Gamble was cited for the Sept. 5 death of Wilford Arnold Hipp, 31, of 135 Boughton avenue, who was killed on Ashland road as his car was struck by a car operated by Gamble.

The Shelby youth was fatally wounded while cleaning a rabbit he had just killed near LaRue. He died at 3:30 p. m. in Marion City hospital where his two companions, Kenneth Albert and Russell Apger, also of Shelby, rushed him after the accident.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert M. Gamble, the youth resided with his parents at 12½ South Gamble street, Shelby. Also surviving is a brother, Delbert M. jr., at home.

EMPLOYED AS PAINTER

Born in Shelby on Feb. 23, 1929, the youth was graduated from Shelby high school and was a member of the Eagles lodge. At the time of his death he was employed as a painter.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the Dye funeral home in charge of Rev. James A. Scott, pastor of the Shelby Methodist church. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Another shooting victim was Forest F. Prochow, 21, of Akron, killed as a result of "fatal foolishness," according to Akron police.

Police said a 14-year-old boy, believing the shotgun was not loaded, playfully pointed the gun at Prochow's left breast and pulled the trigger.

Heart attacks accounted for two deaths in the hunting opener. The victims were George Catt, 67, of New Lexington, who died near Thornville in Perry county, and Robert Cranker, 25, who succumbed near Perrysburg in Wood county.

Injured in hunting accidents included:

Stephen Bender, 50, of Mayfield Heights, accidentally shot by a brother-in-law while cleaning a gun.

Arthur Orchard jr., 21, of Lima, suffered head, shoulder and arm wounds when accidentally shot by a hunting companion.

Sgt. Harold Detty, 28, of the Wilmington Air Force base, wounded in both legs when struck by buckshot fired by unidentified hunters near Groveport.

Bent Barnett, 20, of Cleveland, shot in the hip by hunters while working at Huntsburg, near Chardon.

86 Years Separates Oldest, Youngest Area Hunters

By DON MILLER

There was 86 years difference between the ages of the youngest and oldest hunters to take to the fields from this area yesterday. Five-year-old "Butch" Carey of Loudonville was at one end of the scale and Charles F. Ackerman, who celebrates his 91st birthday today, was at the other.

Butch's father, Kenneth Carey, makes a hobby of guns. Mrs. Carey is the former Leona Winters of Mansfield.

Ackerman, president of the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank, hunted in the Findlay area with William Gibson, of Lexington. They got two rabbits and two pheasants. A little delicate prying disclosed that Ackerman downed one of the ringnecks.

Other Mansfield hunters reported varied bags on the opening day of the 1948 hunting season.

As usual, parties going to Findlay, Bowling Green and surrounding areas came back with full and near bag limits while those who roamed Richland county fields reported less success.

One of the first hunting parties to report a full bag limit was that composed of Don Beer, Marty Pahls, and three or four other Mansfield sportsmen. The party went to Bowling Green and came back with full limits. Another party of five, headed by Chet Beer, made the trip to Findlay and reported a plentiful supply of ringnecks and rabbits. All took their limits.

In Richland county, one of the largest crowds in years took to the fields. Rabbits were easy to find but pheasants proved tougher to bag, as state conservation officials had predicted. Surprisingly, though, the actual number of pheasants seemed to be greater than most sportsmen from Mansfield had believed.

High weeds handicapped rabbit hunters to some extent, but many bulging jackets proved the accuracy of local nimrods.

However, ringnecks and chilled shot weren't all that flew yesterday. Four Mansfield men, Paul Guthrie, A. C. Tschantz, Elmer Cash and George Geib made the trip to Ottawa by plane.

The group flew up in two planes, then joined a party headed by Fire Chief L. J. Steele. The latter party drove and made almost as good time as the pilots who bucked a heavy headwind.

The fliers picked up two pheasants between them but came back with the limit of rabbits. Steele and his party had better luck with the birds, two men getting their limit and the others splitting the honors.

Miss Evelyn Boehmler, bride-elect of Richard Fisher, was honored recently at a kitchen shower given by her matron-of-honor, Mrs. Fred Schiefer, Bucyrus.

The fifteen guests present spent the evening playing games and making a bride's book.

A telegram was sent to the honoree telling her where the gifts were hidden. They were found in a blue and white clothes basket covered with a blue and white umbrella, the colors Miss Boehmler has chosen for her wedding.

Lunch was served at a late hour from a table ceentered with an arrangement of fall flowers. Blue and white candles were placed on each side of the centerpiece.

Members of the Westinghouse service department honored Miss Boehmler at a dinner held at the Fairway. The guests presented her with a gift.

Miss Boehmler and Mr. Fisher will exchange nuptial vows December 4 in St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church at 3:30 p. m. The Rev. John Melchert will officiate for the double ring formal ceremony.

Mansfield Regains Spot In Ohio Big Ten

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

"THE YANKEES and the Red Sox could have won the 1948 American league baseball pennant. But Cleveland won. They won because they out-hustled the rest of the league. Hustle is the only way you can get any place." . . . It was Tommy Henrich, one of the old pros of the New York Yankees, talking to some 300 Mansfield youngsters last night. . . . Tommy was the spotlight figure at the Hot Stove league's junior baseball party at the Moose lodge. . . . But the Yankee outfielder-first sacker was pushed for honors by the hot dog department. . . . The "kids," all of them played in the fine Hot Stove league program last summer, got their fill of "dogs" before and after the program. . . . Several movies were shown but Tommy was the big guy. . . . He gave out plenty of autographs. . . . His formal speech consisted of the above and a few remarks about his start in the national pastime. . . . Tommy said, "I started playing ball at five. The one way to learn to play baseball is to get out and play. You must be able to throw. And you've got to like the game."

THAT WAS all of the formal speech making but the kids caught him in a cross-fire of questions. . . . Here's a few:

Q. Who is the best pitcher in baseball?

A. Bobby Feller.

Q. Who is the best outfielder in baseball?

A. Joe DiMaggio is the best I ever saw.

Q. What was your biggest thrill in baseball?

A. Hitting a home run off Don Black in the 11th inning against Cleveland. They passed Rizzuto to get at me.

Q. Why did you go to first base?

A. I guess McQuinn got too old.

Q. Who are the best hitters in the majors?

A. Musial and Williams.

Q. What do you think about Lou Boudreau?

A. There's nothing but the best about Boudreau. You can't second guess a winner. Boudreau won the world's championship.

Q. Who is the best second baseman?

A. Joe Gordon.

★

AFTER THE session with the kids, we cornered Henrich in a huddle with Gene Hartnett, Aid Geiger, Stan Kamen, Earl Korn, Tom's brother, Ed, and a couple of other fans. . . . We wanted to know something about the 1949 league race and the Yankees in particular. . . . These ideas are all Tommy's without any interpolations by the Stuffer. . . . "Take your pick of Cleveland, New York or Boston for the 1949 pennant. Detroit could be in there if it bolsters the infield. . . . The addition of Bill Dickey and Jim Turner to our coaching staff makes it look as if the powers plan to improve our pitching. If this works out, we'll win. . . . Bobby Porterfield really has it. He'll be a great one. He has a good fast ball and a good curve and above all he has confidence and a level head. Porterfield is the best to hit the majors since Vic Raschi."

★

HENRICH TELLS one autograph tale on himself. "I know very well some of the kids around New York asked me for my autograph because they needed two of mine to get one of DiMaggio's." . . . About Bucky Harris. Tommy says, "I think that Bucky was a great guy to play for. I'd play for him anytime."

A's Purchase Taft Wright

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— The Chicago White Sox sent 35-year-old Outfielder Taft Wright to the Philadelphia Athletics today for an unannounced sum in an outright sale.

General Manager Frank Lane of the Sox said the deal was the first of other trades or purchases to be made with the A's.

Manager Connie Mack of the Athletics said he would use Wright as an extra outfielder and pinch-hitter. Mack said the deal provides his team with "a consistent long-ball hitter in the pinches, something we badly lacked during the past season."

Tygers Take Tenth Spot With Upset

Mansfield Senior high school's football team today was rated among Ohio's scholastic "Big Ten" for the first time in a month.

The twice-beaten Tygers landed tenth spot in polls conducted by the Associated Press and the International News Service. Mansfield had been in 16th place last week but made the big jump by recording the "upset of the year" in defeating Hamilton last Friday, 27 to 20.

BIG BLUE DROPS

Hamilton's Big Blue dropped way down from second in both selections. The (AP) had the southern Ohio team rated fifth and the (INS) had it in eighth place. Mansfield has another opportunity to advance in the rankings this week as it meets Martins Ferry in Ohio's third most important high school game.

Of course, the top game on the calendar pits Canton McKinley against Massillon Friday night. Canton has a decided first-place edge in both polls while Massillon is second in the (AP) rankings and third in the (INS).

Massillon's stock got a big boost last week when John Colceri, Canton's great 180-pound halfback, suffered a fractured collar bone against Youngstown Woodrow Wilson. The Bulldogs won that one, 31 to 7. Massillon smashed Barberton, 1947 state champs, 28 to 0.

COMPLETE TOP FOUR

Middletown and Newark completed the top four. Middletown runs into Hamilton in the second-ranked contest Friday night. The Big Blue might rebound from its Mansfield defeat and further jumble the Ohio standings.

Only three teams in both polls have come through the first nine weeks of the season with unbeaten, untied records. Canton McKinley and Gallipolis each have nine wins and Akron St. Vincent has copped eight in a row. The latter team's have concluded their 1948 schedules.

State Ticket Rumors Halted By Bill Snypp

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— The Ohio State University athletic publicity director today put an end to rumors that some tickets were still available for the Ohio State-Michigan game here Saturday.

"There are no tickets," Bill Snypp said. "The game has been sold out for months."

Snypp also revealed that the game between the traditional rivals will have the heaviest press coverage since Notre Dame played here in 1935. Radio coverage of the game, he added, will be the heaviest in history.

BIG WELCOME

Ohio State fans, meanwhile, planned a big welcome for Chic Harley, OSU football immortal, when he arrives here Friday for the Michigan game.

Mayor James A. Rhodes and a committee of Ohio State students have proclaimed Friday as "Scarlet and Gray for Chic Harley Day."

Harley, who played with the Buckeyes in 1916 - 1919, will "home" for the first time in many years. He has been fighting a prolonged illness at the U.S. Veterans' hospital at Danville, Ill., for many years and now is on the way to recovery.

Alexander Wins 1948 TD Award

NEW YORK—(AP)—W. A. (Bill) Alexander, Georgia Tech athletic director, is winner of the 1948 National Touchdown club award as the person who has done the most for football over a long period of time.

Last year's award went to Glenn S. (Pop) Warner. Others to receive the honor have been Coach Lou Little of Columbia and the veteran Alonzo A. Stagg, now associate coach at Susquehanna.

Two Badgers Return

MADISON, Wis.—(UP)—Wisconsin's football team counted today on the return of center Joe Kelly and end Tom Bennett to bolster their hopes of a good showing in the conference finale between Wisconsin and Minnesota Saturday.

Lucas Basketball Outfit Will Be Tall This Season

LUCAS—Lucas, mired deep in sixth place in the Richland County Basketball league last winter, will be a different story this year.

At least that's the way things look in sizing up the squad before the opening of the season. Coach Leslie Burson's men have their share of everything but experience.

Eight of the first ten men stand six feet or better and all, Burson says, are reasonably fast. The one fly in the ointment is that only one boy, Bob Harvey, has first-team experience.

Harvey, Lucas' regular center last year, has been converted to guard and will be paired along with either Chuck Doggett, Junior Brubaker or Don Hawkins. Harvey, who stands six-foot-one, was moved from the pivot to make room for Bob Zody, a six-two sophomore.

TEAM FORWARDS

At the forwards Burson has Bud Baughman, who was a varsity sub last year and Don Smith, up from the reserves. Baughman is a senior, Smith a sophomore.

Rounding out the first ten are Senior Dick Orewiler and Sophs Joe Harris and Phil Bright. All are near the six-foot mark.

For a reserve team, Lucas has a squad of ten freshmen and ten sophomores, which should develop into plenty of good material in years to come. Sophs are Jerry Niswander, Paul Hawkins, Bob Grover, Floyd VanMeter, Art Chambers, Gerald McMillen, Jim Roberts, Jim Bucher, Bill Partin and Floyd Swanger.

Freshmen on the reserves are Roy Fife, Tom Baughman, Jim Hawkins, Bob Switzer, Joe Fanello, Bob Stewart, Bill Harvey, Bud Barr, Bert Nichols and Ronald Schrack.

Eagle Gridder In Hospital

ASHLAND — Russell Cooke, New London center on the Ashland college football team, is a patient at Crile General hospital, near Cleveland, with a broken neck sustained in Saturday's final tilt between the Ashland Eagles and Hiram college.

Cooke, taken to Crile Saturday from Samaritan hospital, Ashland, underwent surgery for removal of a crushed vertebra Sunday and will be placed in a cast after about 14 weeks at Crile, physicians there reported.

Cooke's wife, a registered nurse on the Mansfield General hospital staff, is remaining with him at Crile.

Bucyrus Legion Plans Junior 9

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus American Legion post's athletic committee is sponsoring a "feather" party at the post home Thursday night, Mike Melcher, committee chairman, announced today.

The program will include dancing, musical entertainment, free lunch and the awarding of a 250-pound pig. Proceeds will be used to equip a Legion-sponsored baseball team.

Starts Comeback

MACON, Ga.—(AP)—Billy Conn, who lost two chances at Joe Louis' heavyweight crown, started a comeback jaunt last night when he scored a technical knockout over gangling Mike O'Dowd of New York in the ninth round of a scheduled ten-rounder here.

Richland Big Name In Bowling

"Richland" was the big name in bowling last night as the only honor roll score came from the Richland Recreation team of the Richland A league, which, quite naturally, rolls on the Richland Recreation alleys.

Orlie Grable was the possessor of the top effort, a 222-199-200—621. It helped his team (we won't fepeat the name) to a clean sweep of three games along with Miller's Hi-Life and Oak Park Tavern.

Bob Gresmer, also of Richland Recreation (the team) was runnerup for individual honors with a 212-199-162—573. The Richland five had the high team total of 2633.

Three other individuals had single games of over 200. Fritz Wolf had 209, L. Cleckner 207 and Hal LeMunyon 201.

★

J. R. (Joe) Hetler came close to the 600 mark as he turned in a 175-218-205—598 while rolling with Liederkranz in the Club league at Colony. Jake Hoff, who follows Hetler in the Liederkranz lineup, was not far behind with 165-224-202—591. Lloyd Pugh of American Legion had 212-183-195—590.

Other good scores in the loop included a 562 by Bob Lynch, 553 by Bart Haley, 546 by K. Carlisle and 544 by Pete Mayer.

Baku Grotto missed a golden opportunity to move into first place when it dropped two of three games to Liederkranz. Optimists, in the top spot by only one game, lost two of three to the University club. Globe Steel, with two victories, moved into a tie with the Grotto five for second place.

★

Fred Carver of Barnes Meat Market led the Commercial C league with 204-232-161—597. Leo Hetler of league-leading Urschel Insurance was second with 562 while Joe Rabel had 558 and Jake Streitmater, 550. Dick Adams posted 544; Ted LeMunyon and John Kutchsall, 541; Emer Myers, 538; and Jim Dunn, 530.

Urschel's swept three games to maintain its one game hold on the league lead over Barnes.

★

Hazel Hilborn was the No. 1 woman bowler of the night as she set the pace in the Variety league with a 192-158-156—506. Millie Hough of Penn Auto had a 207-154-141—502 mark. Her first game was easily the high single game mark.

Bunched in the high 40's were: Evelyn Marshman, 495; Bert Malaska, 486; Arlene Peters, 485; Flo Handwork, 483; and Marty Dye, 464.

National Cash Register held first place with two out of three wins from Farmer's Market.

★

C. Penrose led the Gorman-Rupp league with 179-155-225—559. He was followed by D. Bachman, 524, Earl Turner, 535, B. Bachman, 524.

★

A 407 by Naomi Carr led the Mansfield Tire league women. Joanne Janes' 398 was second, Emma Frontz's 392, third and Helen Hazen's 383 fourth.

Michigan Has Big Poll Margin; Irish Second

Wolverines Grab Big Vote Share

NEW YORK—(AP)—With only one more game to play, Michigan has taken a commanding lead in the race to be named the best football team of the year.

The Wolverines moved more than 200 points ahead of runner-up Notre Dame by grabbing 130 first-place votes in the weekly Associated Press poll of football writers and broadcasters.

They had a total of 1,952 points compared with 1,721 for the Irish, who led at the end of the regular season vote last year.

Army is in third place with 1,426 and California in fourth with 1,288 North Carolina, with 1,034, climbed from sixth to fifth on the strength of its smashing victory over Maryland.

Completing the first ten, in order, are Penn State, Northwestern, Oklahoma, Clemson and Southern Methodist.

GROW IN PRESTIGE

The mighty men of Michigan grew in prestige by swamping Indiana, 54-0, Saturday while their main challengers, Notre Dame and Army, were shouldering through in the hardest way.

The Irish had to rally late to beat out Northwestern, 12-7, while the Cadets won in the last 30 seconds over Pennsylvania, 26-20

The extent that the Wolverines rose in favor is reflected in the distribution of first place votes. Notre Dame, which had the largest batch of these last week, received only 27 compared with Michigan's 130.

The point standings on a 10-9 8 7 6-5-4 3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parenthesis)

Champ Rallies To Whip Lee

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)— Welterweight Champ Sugar Ray Robinson staged a desperate late-rounds rally last night to take a unanimous decision from Bobby Lee in a 10-round non-title match at the Arena

Robinson, who weighed in at 154, got off to a slow, sluggish start as Baltimore Bobby kept him more or less on the defensive through the first six rounds

Robinson was suspended in Pennsylvania immediately after the bout, although not because of it. The action followed his suspension in New York last week for failing to go through with a Buffalo non-title bout

Hinrichs Quiet About Signing

ST. LOUIS—(INS)—Paul Hinrichs, 23-year-old righthand pitcher, declined to comment today on a report he has signed a contract with the New York Yankees.

Hinrichs recently was declared a free agent by Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler, who ruled that the Detroit Tigers had "covered up" Hinrichs

Hinrichs would not confirm nor deny that he has decided to go with the Yankees At one time, 12 major league and two minor league clubs were after his services.

NEW YORK ACE — Pop Gates is one of the old-time stars on the New York Rens cage aggregation which plays the City league all-stars tomorrow night at the Senior high school gym.

Red Rolfe Plans Youth Movement On Detroit Squad

DETROIT—(U.P.)—Robert (Red) Rolfe, who switched from a job as director of the Detroit Tigers' farm teams to field manager of the Tigers themselves, was planning today to bring a few of his "kids" along with him

In his first statements after the announcement of his surprise promotion, the former New York Yankee star stressed the "youth" theme And for good measure he threw in "speed and hard work"

"It won't be like starting with a broken-down team," Rolfe told newsmen. "Our ball club has started to go down, though, and we've got to build it up with new blood"

As his first step in the rejuvenation, he indicated that 22-year-old Johnny Groth was slated for a full trial next spring to see if he can make the grade as the Tigers' regular center fielder Last year Groth was a standout with the Tigers' Buffalo farm team of the International league.

With all teams in the area except Senior high having rung down the curtain on their football season, Bucyrus, Bellville, and Bellville's Jimmy Gleason have been proclaimed the leaders of 1948.

Bucyrus holds the No. 1 position by virtue of being the only undefeated team Bellville and its star halfback, Jim Gleason, rate as tops in team and individual scoring

For Bucyrus it was the first undefeated season and first Northern Ohio league championship. In 1925, the Redmen had won the old North Central Ohio league crown Mansfield finished fourth in that league, with a mark of two wins, two losses, and two ties. By beating Madison 20-13 Friday, Bucyrus scored its eighth victory against one tie.

Bellville, the last undefeated, untied team went down 12-7 before Loudonville but still scored the most points, 286 to 48 for its opponents Bucyrus had 262 points to 47 for the opposition.

Responsible for a major share in the Bellville scoring was Gleason, the swivel-hipped left-halfback who broke loose for 19 touchdowns and three extra points—a 117-point total. Bucyrus's Bill Kibler, right-handed half of the Redmen touchdown twins, saw little service last week but came through with a 60-yard punt return for his 19th touchdown.

Bellville and Mt Vernon both won eight games and Upper Sandusky, Mansfield and Loudonville seven each Galion, beaten 20-19 by Ashland, is the only area team which failed to win.

Senior High plays undefeated Martins Ferry at Martins Ferry this Friday night.

Charles KO's Big Kentucky Foe In No. 7

CINCINNATI —(INS)— Ezzard Charles flattened Walter Hafer of Maysville, Ky, last night in the seventh round, but apparently no one told Joe Louis—or maybe someone did

Otweighed by 22 pounds, Charles had the Kentuckian on the floor five times before he polished him off with a right to the chin and then a left uppercut.

However, Louis, in Cleveland for a six-round exhibition bout with Jimmy Bivins tomorrow night, said he had changed his mind about meeting Charles The heavyweight champion said

"I know I said last summer that I thought Charles looked like the most dangerous of the heavyweight contenders, but now I'm convinced he should stay among the light heavies

FAR FROM TOPS

"It seems like every time Charles meets a pretty good man who outweighs him by five pounds or more, he doesn't shape up like any world-beater at all Far from it"

Hafer handed Charles a cut over the right eye and a bloody nose and took at least one of the rounds before he went down for the count

Charles had his opponent on the canvas once in the fourth, again in the sixth and twice in the seventh before administering the final medicine that will lead him to a bout with Joe Baski in Madison Square Garden

By-passing Charles, Louis listed Baski, Lee Savold and Bivins as men he would consider for a shot at his title

Big Stake

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The chance for an exhibition bout against Joe Louis in Cincinnati, Nov 29 may be at stake when the Alabama Kid goes up against Bronx heavyweight Lee Q. Murray tonight in Columbus

Howell To Speak At Grid Banquet

LOUDONVILLE — Fritz Howell, Ohio sports editor of the Associated Press, will be guest speaker at the Loudonville high school football banquet here Nov 30 at 6 30 p m

The Loudonville team won seven of ten games defeating Mansfield Madison, 19 to 6, and spoiling Bellville's unbeaten record, 12 to 7 Coach Elmer Boyer's Red Birds lost only to Orrville and Millersburg

Tyger Club Speakers Praise Fans

A triple-header speaking program with a single purpose highlighted the weekly meeting of the Tyger booster club last night at Senior high auditorium.

Senior high Coach Augie Morningstar, Rev. Matthew Madden, and ex-big leaguer Ray Mack took the speaker's stand in that order praised the spirit of the Mansfield fans.

Augie led off by complimenting the boosters for the "fine game they played against Hamilton" He said he somehow felt that the cheering came from deep inside and that there was little doubt but what it inspired the Tygers to their greatest heights

He particularly cited the incident at the end of the first half when the second and third stringers started off the field, heard the crescendo of the stands, then stopped and carried the regulars off

JENKINS IS HURT

Augie told the gathering that Mansfield lost only one thing Friday—A C Jenkins The big fullback who is the team's leading ground gainer will definitely not be in top form against Martins Ferry Friday He was partially knocked out four times by Hamilton and has not participated in a Tyger practice since

The Bengal coach said that his only hope was that Jenkins would be in shape for "limited" service against the Ferrians Dave Guysoph end, sustained a fractured foot in the sophomore game at Massillon Saturday

Mack, a surprise addition to the rostrum, complimented the team on its fine record and had an extra word of praise for the coaching staff

RELATES EXPERIENCES

An all-Ohio football and basketball choice before turning to pro baseball, Mack related his sports experiences with particular emphasis on the time spent with Lou Boudreau as the Indian keystone combination He remarked that fine coaching in high school and college had made the success of Boudreau that he is today.

Mack recounted how he used to be a Massillon fan but had switched allegiance because the "boys" he used to follow at Massillon were now Mansfield coaches.

He also had a good word for Mansfield fans, likening them to the rabid Cleveland Indian rooters who "drove" the Tribe to the pennant and World Championship.

Rev. Madden, pastor of the First Congregational church, related an amusing story about himself as a highlight of his speech.

"I knew I would do so much yelling if I went to the Hamilton game," Rev Madden said, that "I might not be able to preach Sunday But I decided to take a chance.

"And I'm going to keep on yelling, even if my congregation wants to fire me"

Warning! If you value your hair, stop trying to free yourself from scalp film, dandruff and scalp itch with methods that cleanse only the surface of the hair and scalp.

Here is something you should know if you are suffering from excessive oily or dry dandruff or scalp itch: Merely removing excessive oil or surface dandruff by shampooing alone or dousing the head with ordinary preparations does not correct the real cause of the trouble. Surface cleansers can no more help Nature restore normal functions of the glands or hair follicles than toothache drops can correct infected teeth.

"Plugged" Follicles Retard Hair Growth

It is impossible to prevent your hair and scalp from being exposed to dust, grime, soot, oil and perspiration. These accumulations often plug up the hair follicles. By their irritating effect, these follicle "plugs" cause visible dandruff, itching, and frequently inflammation, minor infection and abnormal hair loss.

If these conditions are not remedied, the existing hair may become brittle, the falling of hair become rapid. Ultimately, permanent thinning of the hair and areas of baldness may result.

KORVO, a scientific germicidal preparation, penetrates into the hair follicles and dissolves scalp film. It lends assistance to the oil glands, dilates the capillaries that furnish added nourishment to the hair cells and helps promote hair growth. The natural result is to bring life and lustre back to the hair and increase its vitality and resistance.

Until Now KORVO Was Available Only on Prescription

KORVO is the result of years of clinical research by one of America's noted dermatologists. For 10 years this wonder-working preparation has been used by this skin specialist to correct most stubborn cases. Clinical records on file prove that sufferers of scalp itch and excessive dandruff obtained miraculous relief.

KORVO eliminated excessive dandruff in as little as 5 days, gave instant relief to those suffering from itchy scalp. Now, for the first time, KORVO treatment is available for home use at only a few cents per treatment. Korvo is not a hair restorative.

No Longer Necessary to Pay High Fees to Get These Results If You Use KORVO As Directed

"No Critter ever made Them Tracks"
(Today's Covered Wagons roll on Rails of Steel)

Across America the hoofprints of plodding oxen have long since given way to rails of steel. Today this vast, steel-shod network amounts to 398,000 miles of track.

To withstand the terrific pounding of modern trains, rails must be strong and safe. Today's rails average 15 years of main line service, and many additional years of service on secondary lines.

By improving their technology steel companies have produced better steel rails at lower cost. Their price is now only one-third the price of the first rails produced in America.

In railroad steel, as in other steel products, the industry is setting new production records this year. Railroads are getting a third more steel than they used before the war.

Supplying this steel for rail transportation, the steel companies make possible:

For You – quick, safe service;
For Steel Workers—jobs and good wages;
For Everyone – better living.

IN THE NEWS . . . Year by year weekly wages of steel company employees are above the average for all manufacturing industries—13% higher in 1947.

IN THE NEWS . . . From 1939 to 1949, American steel mills will have added 15,000,000 tons to productive capacity. That increase alone is nearly 1,000,000 tons greater than total British production of steel in 1947.

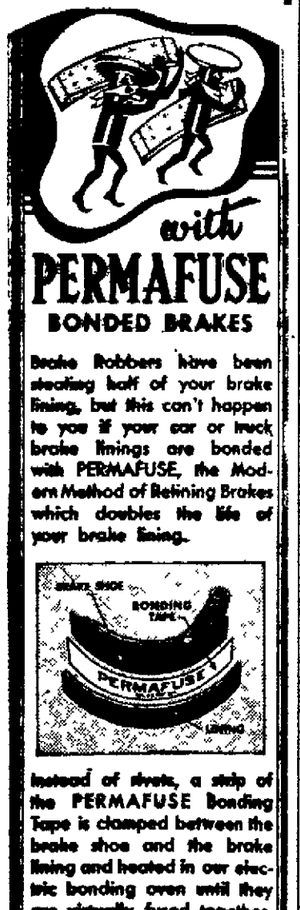
GOODBYE BRAKE ROBBERS



with PERMAFUSE BONDED BRAKES
Brake Robbers have been stealing half of your brake lining, but this can't happen to you if your car or truck brake linings are bonded with PERMAFUSE, the Modern Method of Relining Brakes which doubles the life of your brake lining.

Instead of rivets, a strip of the PERMAFUSE Bonding Tape is clamped between the brake shoe and the brake lining and heated in our electric bonding oven until they are virtually fused together. Remember PERMAFUSE for longer lasting brakes.

Otto Graham Will Be Ready

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns had at least one bit of news to make him happy today.

Brown learned yesterday that Otta Graham's pitching hand is not seriously injured and he will be in the lineup against the New York Yankees next Sunday.

The Cleveland mentor said, however, that it was too early to tell whether Tommy James, Bill Willis and Mac Speedie will be fully recovered by Sunday's fray. All four were injured in last Sunday's game with San Francisco.

Indians Expect Big Crowd Year

CLEVELAND —(U.P.)—Cleveland Indians' officials indicated today that 1949 will be another top-flight year for attendance at Cleveland stadium.

Business Manager Rudie Schaffer reported the ball club's switchboard was swamped yesterday when season box and reserved seat tickets went on sale. He estimated that 60 per cent of the 13,000 box seats would be sold for the season, leaving about 5,500 to be placed on public sale for each game.

This Fellow Cuts Up on Grid Plays

COLUMBUS—(INS)—It was a rough game.

Ohio State fan Martie Durkin, 40, was recovering today from head lacerations and three slashed fingers he picked up some way on the way home from Champaign, Ill.

Durkin, who saw the Bucks whip Illinois 34-7, told Columbus police he'd cut himself "explaining a football play on the train."

Awaits News On Recount

GEORGETOWN— (AP) —Blond, green-eyed Dorothy B. Kennedy will learn through a recount Tuesday whether she is to be Brown county's first woman prosecutor.

Miss Kennedy, a graduate last June of the Salmon P. Chase College of Law at the Cincinnati YMCA, was a write-in candidate for prosecutor at the Nov. 2 election.

An unofficial count gave her 2,016 votes to 1,272 for her only opponent, assistant prosecutor Angus Wilson. However, the official count cut her majority to 115 when election officials found that seven of the county's 34 precincts had given her all the straight Democratic votes cast.

Wilson then called for a recount and officials are scheduled to begin going over the ballots at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Miss Kennedy, an attractive, 29-year-old resident of nearby Hamersville, considers the job of prosecutor "a difficult one for any person.

"But I believe that through hard work I can fill the job and give Brown county a good prosecutor, even if she is a woman."

Palestine Armistice Ordered

U. N. Again Demands Peace

PARIS — (U.P.) — The United Nations Security council today called on the Arabs and Jews to negotiate a permanent armistice in Palestine and again ordered the Jews to leave their recently-seized territory in the Negev.

Acting in the face of fresh Arab and Jewish defiance, the Security council took four votes to approve the armistice plan in sections. By a vote of 8 to 0 with Russia, the Ukraine and Syria abstaining, it adopted two parts of the armistice plan. By a third vote of 8 to 1 with Russia and the Ukraine abstaining, it adopted the part calling for the armistice. Syria voted against the armistice clause.

The Jews welcomed the call for armistice negotiations as the first step toward a formal peace settlement, but their refusal to leave the Negev, even temporarily, confronted the council with new troubles, even before the resolution was passed.

DEMAND ACTION

The council order called on the Arabs and Jews to negotiate forthwith, either directly or through Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting UN mediator, for:

1. A delineation of "permanent armistice demarcation lines beyond which the armed forces of the respective parties shall not move."

2. "Such withdrawal and reduction of their armed forces" as will insure a permanent halt in the Palestine fighting.

The western powers jammed the blueprint through the council as the political committee of the UN swung into full debate on how to find a political settlement in Palestine. In both debates, Arab diplomats warned grimly that the Arab nations still are determined to wipe out the Jewish state in Palestine.

In the Security council, a fourth vote was made necessary by a last-ditch Syrian attempt to extend the reaffirmed withdrawal order for the Negev to include Galilee as well. Belgium, China and Syria voted in favor of this. The other eight nations abstained, and the move was of course defeated by lack of support.

The council also voted down a more extensive Russian proposal to order direct "formal peace negotiations" between the Jews and the Arabs. The Soviet move was rejected in two sections, with only Russia and the Ukraine voting for it, and the other nine abstaining.

Court Hears Fraud Case

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Helen Campbell, ex-secretary to Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R) N. J., is scheduled to respond today in federal court to charges that she conspired with her former boss to defraud the government.

Miss Campbell and Thomas, chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee, are under indictment as a result of a grand jury's investigation of salary "kickback" charges against the congressman.

Thomas pleaded "not guilty" to the charges Monday at a surprise arraignment and was held in $1,000 bail until his trial, set for Jan. 10.

If a guilty verdict is returned against them, the charge carries a possible penalty of two years imprisonment or a $10,000 fine or both. In addition, Thomas also is under indictment on three counts of filing false statements in connection with the Un-American Activities' committee payroll.

Flames Sweep Martin Steel, Damage Placed at $100,000

Teachers Get $150 Increase

Board Votes Pay Adjustment

Teachers and other employes of Mansfield public schools are going to get from $100 to $150 more than they expected this year.

The board of education last night voted the cost of living pay adjustments for a total of 366 employes of the school system.

The salary adjustments will add $55,000 to the school payroll for the year. Payments of the lump sum will be made starting Dec. 15, Clerk John H. Eisaman said.

Teachers and employes who joined the school system last year or earlier will receive the $150 increase. Personnel who joined the staff at the beginning of this term will receive $100, and other employes who recently were added to the staff will be compensated on the basis of their length of employment with the schools.

Eisaman said about 300 employes are eligible for the $150 adjustment.

Last year, teachers and other staff members received a $100 pay adjustment.

The 1948 adjustment was proposed by Board Member Harold A. Bruce after a study of the schools' financial condition.

Bruce said: "We want the employes to know we are conscious of their financial problems."

TAX REVENUE UP

Eisaman said an increase in funds available to the schools made the boost possible. The schools have had no serious emergencies so far during the year to consume operating funds. Personal property taxes have provided more school revenue than anticipated, he added.

Two additional individual salary adjustments were approved by the board.

Miss Margaret Kuppinger, a first grade teacher at Bowman school, was found to have completed work for her Master's degree, and her salary was adjusted accordingly.

An adjustment was also approved for Donald Tennant, an instructor of music at John Simpson junior high school, for his acquisition of at least six units of credit during the summer.

The resignation of Mrs. Louise Cornish, a teacher on leave from Bowman school, was accepted by the school board.

Agents of the justice department's anti-trust division indicated that the investigation would inquire closely into operations of E. I. Dupont De Nemours corporation, whose records were subpeenaed last Sept. 24 along with those of General Motors, Ethyl, U. S. Rubber, Bendix, North American Aviation, and Kinetic Chemical.

ROB LOAN COMPANY

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Two sportily dressed men held up the Ohio Loan Discount company yesterday and escaped with $2,700, police reported. One of them held three women clerks and the assistant manager with a gun while the other gathered in the cash from four tills.

Worker Shot Accidentally

Hospital Says Condition 'Fair'

A 29-year-old millwright who accidentally shot himself in the abdomen at the Empire Steel plant yesterday as he attempted to put a .32 calibre automatic into his locker, was reported in "fair" condition at General hospital today.

The victim, Charles Carroll, 354 East Second street, underwent surgery at the hospital shortly after the accident which occurred shortly after 4 p. m.

A. L. Allen, personnel manager at the plant, said today that co-workers said Carroll had been hunting with the gun and intended to raffle it off at the plant.

Allen said that Carroll had taken the clip out of the gun, but had apparently forgotten about a single shell left in the chamber of the gun. There were no witnesses to the accident.

Report Royal Mother, Baby 'Doing Fine'

LONDON—(AP)—All was reported well today with Princess Elizabeth and her new son as relatives gathered to peek at the two-day-old prince who may be Britain's next king.

Royal physicians have issued no bulletins since yesterday morning, but the very absence of further announcement was accepted as a sign that the condition of Elizabeth and her baby continues to be satisfactory.

Sir John Weir and Sir William Gilliatt, who assisted at the birth, called at Buckingham palace last night to see the princess.

It'll Cost You!

Thanksgiving Bird Quoted at 85 Cents

If you want turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner, you're going to pay more for it this holiday season.

The big birds are being quoted right now at 85 cents per pound. Whether or not they'll go up or down before Thanksgiving day arrives, is disputable.

Of course, 85 cents is the price for this year's young hens, weighing from eight to 12 pounds. The bigger and tougher toms may be had for 75 cents. Last year at the annual fall holiday choice turkeys were selling for as low as 72 cents per pound and there were some that could be had for 69 cents.

While 85 cents is the quoted price in this area, meat market dealers here say that outside this area, turkeys will be even higher because of the scarcity.

One turkey raiser in this area has about 7,000 birds which will be ready for Thanksgiving trade. He began dressing turkeys in August for hotel and restaurant trade and has been employing six people for this job since then. However, there'll be turkeys on his farm until the first of the year.

There's one bright spot in the Thanksgiving price picture, however. If you're not one of the persons who says "Turkey for Thanksgiving, regardless of price," you may be able to enjoy a nice pork roast at much less. Pork that a week ago sold for 85 cents has come down to 75 and may go even lower, according to meat dealers here.

The cranberries to go with your Thanksgiving dinner will be at least 29 cents per pound. And they'll probably be higher as Thanksgiving day draws near and the demand increases, merchants say.

Wink At Gambling

Mayor Backs Schwab's 'Duck'

Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab ducked comment yesterday on the possibility of police action to curb the wide open illegal gambling operations that are flourishing in the city.

"I do not reveal the movements of the police department," he said.

And Mayor Roy W. Vaughn backed up the chief, declaring: "I think that the chief is doing a good job, and I'll support him in whatever he does."

Since February, when the gambling shut down for eight weeks, the police department has failed to prosecute the gamblers, except for two token raids on small time card games.

At present a horse bookie, card games, dice games, are operating in the open, along with punchboards and poker sheets.

RODZINSKI IN HOSPITAL

LONDON — (AP) — Arthur Rodzinski, the American conductor, is suffering from pneumonia and is in a suburban nursing home.

Four Dealers Take Lead

Stores Agree To Ban Vulgar Comics

Four Mansfield dealers in the Glessner-Marion avenue district, have taken the initiative in agreeing to remove objectionable comic books from their stands, if so requested by a committee or individual parents, R. Y. Davis, Johnny Appleseed junior high school teacher, said today.

The four are LaTurner's, and Doc Cole's on Glessner avenue and the VenMar and Shaw's on Marion avenue. Davis visited each of these four stores last night and found owner's "very cooperative."

"Already the VenMar, owned by Miss Mae King, has taken 20 books off its stands and 30 have been removed from the stand's at Shaw's on Marion avenue," Davis said.

The move by the four Mansfield stores is a part of the campaign against objectionable comic books being waged by the Parent-Teacher associations of the city. The movement was started by Davis when he addressed a group of P-TA members at the Rebecca Grubaugh school recently.

The printing and distribution of comic books has grown to huge proportions in the past few years, Davis said today.

"In 1941 there were 10,000,000 copies being distributed to news stands each month," he said. "Today there are 60,000,000 copies being sold and about 200 different varieties of books."

Representatives of mothers clubs throughout the city will meet with the Rebecca Grubaugh school tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. at the school gymnasium to participate in a discussion on the books. Speakers will be Floyd Dent, area scout commissioner, Arthur L. Glattke, superintendent of the Ohio State reformatory, Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Workers Idled By Blaze

Fire gutted a part of the main building of the Martin Steel Products company late yesterday, causing damage estimated at nearly $100,000 and halting operations at the plant

Company spokesmen said the plant's equipment would be idled for 10 days or two weeks although limited operations will be resumed as soon as electrical service can be restored.

The company employs 118 persons, many of whom will be idle until operations are resumed, company spokesmen said.

Starting near the men's room at the rear of the steel and wood building, the flames quickly spread through the big structure. Electrical wiring and large quantities of bolts used in the manufacture of metal farm buildings were destroyed.

REBUILDING NECESSARY

Carl Oberlin, president of the firm, said the building was so badly damaged that a part of it will have to be rebuilt.

The flames were discovered by employes about 4:25 p. m. Five fire trucks and men from three stations responded to the alarm. Clouds of dense smoke hindered the firemen who worked for more than an hour before the fire was under control.

At 5:30 Fire Chief L. J. Steele sounded a general alarm. Firemen who had been off duty reported to the scene.

Harold Huffman jr., 343½ Sturges avenue, a draftsman at the plant, was among the first employes to see the flames.

"I was coming out of the engineering office at the front of the building and when I looked toward the back of the building, I saw the whole rear section on fire," he said.

Firemen laid 4,000 feet of hose. From Central station two pumpers and a ladder truck responded to the alarm. Engines from Stations No. 2 and No. 3 also arrived. Station No. 5 covered Central station during the four-hour period firemen fought the fire.

PRESSURE LOW

Because the hydrant lines on Longview avenue are only four inches in diameter, pressure was hard to maintain. Water from the hydrants had to be forced through the engine pumpers to build up enough pressure.

An eight-inch line is scheduled to be constructed in the Longview avenue area.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined. Insurance underwriters are investigating.

The fire last night was the third at the Martin plant within the past 18 years. A fire in 1930 caused considerable damage and forced the company to suspend operations for several days.

Another fire during the war, when the plant was operated by the Stran Steel corporation, caused curtailment of production for a short time.

Rape-Slaying Suspect Held

BOULDER, Colo. — (INS) — Boulder authorities awaited today the outcome of blood tests in Ogden, Utah, where a salesman is held for questioning in connection with the murder of a Colorado university co-ed.

Sheriff Arthur Everson was advised that Ogden authorities had arrested the man as a suspect in the slaying of 18-year-old Theresa Foster, who was bludgeoned and strangled last Tuesday night near Boulder.

Blood stains found on the man's coat and shoes will be studied to determine if they could have any connection with the girl's killing.

Police Hearings

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Sixteen Columbus policemen were ordered to appear today for hearings on whether they should be honorably discharged for physical disability. They would receive $160-a-month pensions, Safety Director Charles C. Cole said.

2-Year-Old Wrecks Auto, Injures Five

AKRON—(INS)—It will be a long time before two-year-old Richard Lee Moore rides in the front seat of the family auto again.

The youngster, who lives near Barberton, grabbed the steering wheel from his mother, Mrs. Anna B. Moore, yesterday, sending the car headon into another auto and injuring five persons, one seriously.

William F. Forgie, of Lakewood, driver of the other car, was treated at Barberton's Citizens' hospital for broken ribs and face injuries. The other four were injured only slightly.

Posse Seeks Four After Jailbreak

Escapers Armed With Shotguns

NEW LEXINGTON — (U.P.) — A 50-man posse was formed today to renew the search for four men who escaped from the Perry county jail here yesterday while the sheriff was rabbit hunting.

The posse included sheriff's deputies from Perry and surrounding counties and a score of state highway patrolmen.

Officers believed that the four fugitives may be posing as hunters, since they would attract little attention with their shotguns. The hunting season on rabbits, pheasants and ruffled grouse opened yesterday.

Sheriff Clair Butts said the break occurred when High Dobbins, 39, of Rendville, a trusty at the jail, obtained keys to the cells and released three other prisoners. Sheriff Butts identified the other three as Clyde Kelley, 26, of Vincent, William Godfellow, 19, of New Lexington, and Robert Romine, 23, of Rendville.

Meanwhile, the state highway patrol deployed men throughout southeastern Ohio in a hunt for four men who kidnaped and robbed a Perry county couple last night.

The kidnapers fitted the description of the four prisoners who escaped from the Perry county jail yesterday, the highway patrol station at Marietta reported.

John Sidwell, 25, and his wife, 26, told the patrol they were kidnaped at 9:30 o'clock last night from in front of their home at Crooksville, Perry county. The abductors took their car and abandoned them in a field near Chesterhill in Morgan county.

The Sidwells said the four men were armed with two shotguns and fitted the description of the Perry county jail fugitives.

Noted Medico Dies

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Dr. William H. Bradford, 47-year-old ex-chief medical officer and later manager of Brecksville Veterans' hospital, is dead. His death yesterday came just three days after that of his brother, Roark Bradford, author of the book used as a basis for the stage hit "Green Pastures," in New Orleans.

4 Lives Claimed In Ohio

Gamble Shot Near LaRue

Nineteen-year-old James M. Gamble of Shelby and three other Ohioans lost their lives yesterday on the first day of the hunting season. At least four other persons were injured.

The Gamble youth was shot fatally with his own gun near LaRue in Marion county. His accidental death occurred just a week after he was placed on five years probation in Richland county common pleas court on a manslaughter charge.

Young Gamble was cited for the Sept. 5 death of Wilford Arnold Hipp, 31, of 135 Boughton avenue, who was killed on Ashland road as his car was struck by a car operated by Gamble.

The Shelby youth was fatally wounded while cleaning a rabbit he had just killed near LaRue. He died at 3:30 p. m. in Marion City hospital where his two companions, Kenneth Albert and Russell Apger, also of Shelby, rushed him after the accident.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert M. Gamble, the youth resided with his parents at 12½ South Gamble street, Shelby. Also surviving is a brother, Delbert M. jr., at home.

EMPLOYED AS PAINTER

Born in Shelby on Feb. 23, 1929, the youth was graduated from Shelby high school and was a member of the Eagles lodge. At the time of his death he was employed as a painter.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. at the Dye funeral home in charge of Rev. James A. Scott, pastor of the Shelby Methodist church. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Another shooting victim was Forest F. Prochow, 21, of Akron, killed as a result of "fatal foolishness," according to Akron police.

Police said a 14-year-old boy, believing the shotgun was not loaded, playfully pointed the gun at Prochow's left breast and pulled the trigger.

Heart attacks accounted for two deaths in the hunting opener. The victims were George Catt, 67, of New Lexington, who died near Thornville in Perry county, and Robert Cranker, 25, who succumbed near Perrysburg in Wood county.

Injured in hunting accidents included:

Stephen Bender, 50, of Mayfield Heights, accidentally shot by a brother-in-law while cleaning a gun.

Arthur Orchard jr., 21, of Lima, suffered head, shoulder and arm wounds when accidentally shot by a hunting companion.

Sgt. Harold Detty, 28, of the Wilmington Air Force base, wounded in both legs when struck by buckshot fired by unidentified hunters near Groveport.

Bent Barnett, 20, of Cleveland, shot in the hip by hunters while working at Huntsburg, near Chardon.

86 Years Separates Oldest, Youngest Area Hunters

By DON MILLER

There was 86 years difference between the ages of the youngest and oldest hunters to take to the fields from this area yesterday. Five-year-old "Butch" Carey of Loudonville was at one end of the scale and Charles F. Ackerman, who celebrates his 91st birthday today, was at the other.

Butch's father, Kenneth Carey, makes a hobby of guns. Mrs. Carey is the former Leona Winters of Mansfield.

Ackerman, president of the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank, hunted in the Findlay area with William Gibson, of Lexington. They got two rabbits and two pheasants. A little delicate prying disclosed that Ackerman downed one of the ringnecks.

Other Mansfield hunters reported varied bags on the opening day of the 1948 hunting season.

As usual, parties going to Findlay, Bowling Green and surrounding areas came back with full and near bag limits while those who roamed Richland county fields reported less success.

One of the first hunting parties to report a full bag limit was that composed of Don Beer, Marty Pahls, and three or four other Mansfield sportsmen. The party went to Bowling Green and came back with full limits. Another party of five, headed by Chet Beer, made the trip to Findlay and reported a plentiful supply of ringnecks and rabbits. All took their limits.

In Richland county, one of the largest crowds in years took to the fields. Rabbits were easy to find but pheasants proved tougher to bag, as state conservation officials had predicted. Surprisingly, though, the actual number of pheasants seemed to be greater than most sportsmen from Mansfield had believed.

High weeds handicapped rabbit hunters to some extent, but many bulging jackets proved the accuracy of local nimrods.

However, ringnecks and chilled shot weren't all that flew yesterday. Four Mansfield men, Paul Guthrie, A. C. Tschantz, Elmer Cash and George Geib made the trip to Ottawa by plane.

The group flew up in two planes, then joined a party headed by Fire Chief L. J. Steele. The latter party drove and made almost as good time as the pilots who bucked a heavy headwind.

The fliers picked up two pheasants between them but came back with the limit of rabbits. Steele and his party had better luck with the birds, two men getting their limit and the others splitting the honors.

10 Americans Indicted for Smuggling Arms to Israeli

Ring Flew Bombers To Palestine

Four Diplomats Are Involved

MIAMI, Fla. — (LP) — Federal authorities today prepared arrest warrants for 10 Americans accused of plotting to smuggle arms and warplanes into Palestine for use in Arab-Israeli fighting.

The 10 were indicted here yesterday by a federal grand jury, which charged that an international smuggling ring operated from here to Palestine by way of Czechoslovakia.

Prosecuting Attorney Fred W. Botts said that none of the 10 is now in federal custody. Warrants will be issued today, he said, and the defendants will be given a "limited time" to surrender voluntarily.

Trial was set for Jan. 24 in U. S. District court here.

One witness who appeared before the grand jury had been "threatened with death," Botts said.

The defendants were charged specifically with unlawfully conspiring to export three B-17 bombers from Miami to Zatec, Czechoslovakia, last June 11.

Twenty-one others were named as "co-conspirators" but were not indicted They included four men dentified as official members of the Israeli diplomatic corps to Czechoslovakia.

Chester A. Emerick, supervising customs agent here, testified that one of the bombers "took off to bomb Cairo from Zatec on July 19, piloted by an ex-American Air Force veteran."

He said the other B-17's, fully equipped with bombing equipment and armaments "from the Skoda arms plant in Prague," were destined for Tel Aviv, Israel

At lease five other warplanes were involved in the plot, Emerick said. One member of the ring tried to fly a B-17 to Zatec from Westchester Airport, N. J., but got only as far as the Azores, the customs agent testified, and four A-20 bombers recently seized at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., were also owned by the ring, intended for Palestine

Rain Slated Rest of Week

Rain will dominate the Mansfield weather scene the rest of the week.

The weatherman said showers can be expected every day except Thursday when colder temperatures are expected to drive away the storm clouds.

Holdups Pull Man's Teeth

GREENVILLE —(AP)— A man and a woman pulled four front teeth from Robert Cooper with a pair of pliers early today in an attempt to force him to disclose where money was hidden in his home.

Cooper's wife was forced to watch.

Cooper told police the man and woman knocked on the front door about 12:30 a. m. When he opened it, they forced their way in at gunpoint, tied up Cooper with tape and made Mrs. Cooper open a small wall safe.

Mrs. Cooper said the couple was angry after they found only a small amount of money in the safe. They took a diamond ring valued at $2,000 and a valuable fur coat, she said, and then decided to "force" Cooper to tell where more money was hidden.

They tied Mrs. Cooper with tape and then began pulling her husband's teeth, she said. After they left, Mrs. Cooper freed herself at 2 30 a. m.

Ship Strike Blocks ERP

NEW YORK — (LP) — Striking AFL longshoremen refused to load Marshall Plan goods today, making the tie-up of the Atlantic seaboard from Hampton Roads, Va., to Portland, Me., complete except for movement of Army supply ships.

"Marshall Plan stuff will not go," said Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's association, rejecting an appeal by Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul C. Hoffman that ERP grain and coal be allowed to clear eastern ports. Only Army supplies bound for overseas bases will be handled by the longshoremen, Ryan asserted.

The 65,000 longshoremen appeared to be settling down for a long strike if necessary. In Boston, many of the 2,000 dockers were reported to be seeking new jobs to tide them over during the walkout.

"The men are determined to stick it out," declared John J. Sampson, a leader in last week's wildcat strike which precipitated the main tie-up. "The strike is solid."

City Income Levy Voted At Ashland

Defeated Issue Spurs Passage

ASHLAND — In a surprise move to secure additional funds for the city's maintenance, Ashland city council last night passed on first reading an ordinance creating a one per cent income tax for a three-year period with a $1,000 deduction.

The tax measure was brought up as a substitute for the proposed three and one-half mill levy turned down by voters at the recent election.

The measure, expected to produce an additional income of some $90,000 annually, was advised last summer by a citizen's committee, appointed by Mayor Louis Mansfield to seek new sources of revenue for the city. The only change in the measure from that advocated by the committee is a reduction of the taxing period from five to three years

Funds realized from the tax would finance operation of Brookside municipal park, street maintenance and maintenance of sewage and other facilities.

Council passed the first reading of an ordinance establishing fire lanes in approximately 20 street sections of the city. The fire lanes prohibit parking on at least one side of the designated streets to allow room for passage of fire trucks in emergency.

The council accepted the 1949 budget appropriation of the county budget commission. The appropriation of $83,000 is $10,000 less than that for the present year.

Motor Damaged

Firemen from Central, No. 2, and No. 4 stations answered a call to the Westinghouse plant at 9.48 a. m. today when a motor in the factory shorted. Only the motor was damaged.

Prisoners Helped By Hobbies

Exchange Club Told Of OSR Program

The importance of reading and other hobbies in the rehabilitation of prisoners was stressed yesterday by Martin Wappner, chaplain of the Mansfield reformatory, in a talk before the Mansfield Exchange club.

"Although the reformatory uses no organized plan for hobbies, every effort is made to encourage them," Wappner said.

The institution has an 18,000-volume library for the inmates' use, and magazines are permitted as long as they come directly from the publishers.

The greatest amount of truancy offenders come from the southeastern part of the state, Wappner said. This can be explained by the lack of centralized schools in that area, he added.

Admitting prisoners from ages 16 to 30, the reformatory tries to classify new inmates by means of mental tests, physical examinations and past records, the chaplain stated.

"Some are found to be severe mental cases and are sent for treatment to the state hospital at Lima," he explained.

Sixty-five per cent of the released inmates "go straight" and make good on the outside, the speaker emphasized.

China Nears Communist Domination

THE SITUATION in China grows daily more grave. There is no indication now that anything can stop the Chinese communists from over-running the whole of the country. Russia is known to have Moscow-trained Chinese agents as well as Russians themselves spotted in key posts throughout the Orient to translate military victory into the creation of puppet areas.

However, it will not be so simple as that. China has withstood many invasions, with the invaders being eventually swallowed up. But that is a long range process. To all intents and purposes the United States might as well reconcile itself to seeing a communist-dominated China for some time to come, unless we are ready to undertake vast, direct military action. The latter hardly seems probable.

The Russians, of course, may soon find that they have made an unhappy conquest, that they have bought more hunger than wealth or power. And as they expand into other parts of the Orient their troubles will increase.

This does not mean that the future looks bright for American trade, diplomacy, or anything else in the Far East. But it probably means that any more aid to China at present is a continuation of operation rat-hole, and pretty plain folly.

Other Babies Also Deserve Care

AS GREAT BRITAIN rejoices over the birth of a male heir to the throne, and as people in many lands extend congratulations to the popular princess and her amiable husband, the thought can scarcely be avoided that, after all, the hullabaloo raised over the birth of this particular baby tends to direct attention to the slight heed given to the many other babies that come into the world each day—in Great Britain, Europe, Asia, and even in our own country.

However much the British people may depart from acceptance of the absolutism of earlier kings, the tradition of royalty still exerts a strong influence on them, as evidenced by their deep concern over Princess Elizabeth in recent months, and the anxiety shown during the week-end of waiting for the arrival of the second-in-line heir presumptive.

Doctors and nurses were among those who waited hour after hour, and there was no question as to the extreme of attention the young prince would receive from the moment of his birth, through his entire lifetime.

The troublesome thought is that while the greatest of care is lavished upon this royal babe, so many other children lack even the most meager attention—regardless of their potentialities—and that it is this unbalance which has such a disturbing effect on those who are required to struggle for a bare existence of themselves and their children, whether in Great Britain or elsewhere in the world.

Americans have difficulty in adapting their thinking to the symbolism seen in Britain's adulation of its royal family, but even in this country there is obvious inclination to get considerably stirred up over the birth of a baby to a movie star—so maybe its merely a matter of preference in choice of ideals.

Spanish 'Prisoner' Bobs Up In Mexico

THAT ANCIENT "Spanish prisoner" swindle is on the rounds again—this time in a Mexican setting, but with the central idea retained.

Just how many such letters were sent out from Mexico City by air mail cannot be known, but at least one of them came to a Mansfield professional man, typewritten and accurately addressed.

Here's the idea: In a custom house somewhere in the United States there is a trunk in which $385,000 in currency is secretly hidden. The writer is in prison and wants financial help in regaining possession of the trunk. One third of the money it contains is offered as compensation for the trouble involved, as it would be necessary for the benefactor to make a trip to Mexico City in caring for details.

The letter-writer dare not reveal his identity, so it is requested that air mail reply be sent to "a trusted friend" who will deliver it to him. Access to a typewriter is explained by the statement that the writer is in charge of the prison's school—although some of the misspelled words are remindful of a high school graduate on this side of the border.

It seems ridiculous, at this late date, to think that anyone in this country would fall for such an old racket—but you can never tell.

Cleveland Turned State To Truman

WHILE some errors are ordinarily discovered in the official count, which leisurely follows the rush of precinct counting after the polls close on election day, disclosure of tabulation errors totaling more than 10,000 votes in Cuyahoga county is rather more than can be complacently accepted as excusable on the plea that "everybody makes mistakes."

An interesting outcome of this revelation, however, is the resultant closeness of the Truman-Dewey vote in this state, which, with the total official count not yet available, appears to give President Truman no more than around 7,000 edge, although he carried the city of Cleveland by 85,957—an indication of how one large city can dominate the entire state in the choice of either state or federal officials.

Even the most stubborn admirer of "the good old days" must admit that football as it is played today, with its open play and abundant scoring on both sides, is more fun than the older kind.

Claude Callan advises: "Try to enjoy life before you get everything fixed just as you want it. In all probability you never will get things fixed that way."

By use of a plastic glue a way has been found to shoe horses without using nails—but this seems to be a somewhat belated discovery.

Washington Calling

'Security' Ideas Vary

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—All last week top industrialists together with a few educators, editors and labor leaders were meeting at the Pentagon in a 'joint orientation conference." They came at the invitation of Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, who addressed the group just before he took off on his surprise mission to Europe.

Within its rather narrow limits, such a conference undoubtedly is useful. Men with heavy responsibility for the rearmament program and its effect on the economy were hearing at first hand and off the record the generals, the admirals and the government officials directly concerned with the program.

The top ranking labor leader invited was John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers who denounced President Truman and gave Dewey at least a backhanded endorsement.

The suspicion is that in planning the conference, Forrestal, who seems to have had no more confidence than the poll-takers or "experts" that Truman would be re-elected, intended it as a transition to the new Dewey regime.

As it turned out, the invited guests did not do all the listening at the closed sessions. One of the trade union executives attending was James B. Carey, secretary of the CIO. When a general displayed a large chart mapping off areas of responsibility, with a conspicuous patch labeled "Security," Carey raised a problem that has many people worried.

He brought up the case of the two employes of a Westinghouse Electric company plant at Essington, Penn., who were taken off of government work because they were judged by the government to be "poor security risks." This dismissal last summer of Herbert Lewin and Francis Carner shut down the plant when several thousand employes walked out in protest.

Later, the two men were put on non-government work and the plant resumed operation. Only this week, however, word was received confirming the security order against Lewin and Carner.

* * *

Difference in Views.

CAREY pointed out that the two men were known to be ardently anti-communist. As members of the left-wing Workers party, they do hold unorthodox political views, as Carey made perfectly plain. But they have consistently fought the communist faction dominating the United Electrical Workers at the national level and this was widely known to the men in the Essington plant.

From both security officials and Westinghouse Vice Chairman George H. Bucher, present at the conference, Carey wanted to know what was behind the security charge. He declared that known communists were working at Essington today, apparently with the company's sanction. No satisfactory answer was forthcoming.

Back of all this is a complicated quarrel that cuts many ways. Carey, a former executive of the Electrical Workers before he became Phil Murray's chief lieutenant, has for years waged an unsuccessful battle against the communists in the UEW. UEW, incidentally, was the only major union to support Henry Wallace.

Carey now is convinced that under the guise of security, the very existence of the union is being threatened. Both Lewin and Carner were active in the UEW.

The real stalemate is the position of UEW in plants operating under contract to the atomic energy commission. The commission has announced that because officials of the union refuse to take the non-communist oath in the Taft-Hartley act, the union no longer will be recognized as the bargaining agent.

This, too, Carey and Murray regard as union-busting. They insist that known communists—and security officials do know who they are—can be fired individually as agents of a foreign power which is a potential enemy. In this way, they argue, any threat to security can be eliminated.

Viewing the National Scene

Danger Signal Sighted

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—It is ironical and depressing that on Armistice day there came news that the military overlords of the United States and Great Britain in Germany had turned the Ruhr, the heart of Germany's industrial war potential, over to German ownership and control.

Though presumably on a limited and temporary basis, plans are laid to make it permanent under certain restrictions.

On Armistice day, itself, representatives of six nations interested in the Ruhr problem — the United States, Great Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg—met in London under previous arrangement ostensibly to work out plans for internationalization of the Ruhr.

At the very outset France raised her voice angrily — and logically—against the foreclosing of real internationalization of the Ruhr by the American-British scheme to hand it all back again to the Germans.

This is where we of the first World war generation came in. This is where those of the second World's War generation now how out—those who fought and died in Europe, many in the Ruhr, supposedly to end forever the nazi domination that was sponsored by the financial and industrial powers of Germany, that is, unless somebody is bold enough to step up and take a stand for the ideals for which we fought a second terrible war in Europe.

The people have lost again. The big interests that foster wars are victorious. We are on a hideous "return to normalcy."

It was just about this time after the first World war that an Ohio Republican congressman who later became speaker of the House, Rep. Nick Longworth, rose on the floor and read a report from an American Army officer telling how the German war potential had not been touched in that first World war, told of the great chemical industry that was developing, and cannily predicted that this mammoth cartelized industry was being prepared for another war by Germany.

He was 100 per cent right.

* * *

Same Old Routine.

GERMANY built up her industrial strength again by flooding the world, including this country, with cheap goods and it was that competition with American industry about which the Ohio congressman, an orthodox Republican, was complaining.

But the selfish basis for his position did not deter from the essential truth he brought out that day about the plans and purposes of the industrial and financial lords of Germany to start another war when they got ready.

Even while the bodies of American boys were being brought back home from that first World war for speeches over their flag-draped coffins to which they happily did not have to listen, big American, British and French industrial enterprises were making contrasts with the great German combines, known as cartels, for dividing up world markets, pooling patents, fixing prices so that, when Germany was ready to strike again we found ourselves short of essential war materials because of the agreements that had restricted our own production.

Her profits were used to set up in this country and Latin America that spy network that she used so effectively against us.

Anybody who knows that whole story as this reporter learned it by long study and investigation shudders at what is going on in Germany today.

International finance, which knows no government but is a law unto itself, again is triumphant. For it was the influence of big finance in this country with interests in Germany and the Ruhr that has brought us to where we are today, just as it was the same big finance that tied up with Germany before. And it is well represented in key places in our government.

This is, indeed, where we came in.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Douglas Suitable For Top Cabinet Post

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—President Truman is doing some real soul-searching about the man who is to be his new secretary of state. White House intimates say he has two things in mind:

1. The most important issue facing the entire country is peace, and Truman has got to find the No. 1 man in the country to solve it.

2. He doesn't want to make the mistake Franklin Roosevelt did of not building up new blood for the presidency. Therefore, if the man he picks as secretary of state is able to iron out the tangled state of the world, he would be Truman's logical successor in 1952.

The man tops on Truman's list —if he were not chief justice of the United States — is his old friend Fred Vinson. Once before, Vinson was asked to step down from an important judicial post—the court of appeals—to take over the thankless job of economic stabilizer. And unquestionably, if Truman asked him to, he would step down again.

However, rather than ask Vinson to make this sacrifice, the President is considering Justice William O. Douglas, 48 years old, with a great record on the Securities and Exchange Commission, and a man whom FDR himself recommended side-by-side with Truman as presidential timber.

So keep an eye on Bill Douglas as the next secretary of state.

T-H Law Comes Second.

THE Fair Labor Standards Act —not the Taft-Hartley Law — will get first attention from the new Democratic Congress, according to Sen. Elbert Thomas of Utah, who will succeed Sen. Robert Taft as chairman of the Senate labor committee.

The scholarly Mormon ex-missionary points out that the 80th Congress not only passed the Taft-Hartley Law, but crippled the Fair Labor Standards Act, which affects 20,000,000 unorganized workers. He believes these 20,000,000 need legislative help ahead of the 15,000,000 organized workers who oppose the Taft-Hartley Law.

Thomas is determined, however, that there will be no undue delay in tackling the Taft-Hartley Law. But noting reports that Labor Secretary Maurice Tobin is preparing to rewrite the labor laws, Thomas emphasized that his committee, not the Labor department, will do the rewriting.

Note — Senator Thomas has a consistent, pro-labor voting record in the Senate.

Jenner Cools Off.

HUMBLED by Democratic victory, GOP senators, once hell-bent on probing senatorial elections from Tennessee to Texas, pulled in their horns last week and spoke loftily of "non-partisan investigations."

A few days earlier, fire-breathing GOP Chairman Bill Jenner, of Indiana, was screaming fraud against certain Democratic candidates, and his investigators, one of them the law partner of Ku Klux Klansman Bob Lyons, had gone on a rampage in Oklahoma and Texas.

It was a much subdued Senator Jenner, however, who reviewed these same cases at a closed-door session of the elections subcommittee.

It wouldn't be necessary to hold hearings after all, said the gentleman from Indiana, but would turn complete reports over to the Democrats who inherit the committee.

Sen. Francis Myers of Pennsylvania, only Democrat present, asked why the Democrats hadn't been consulted before the Oklahoma and Texas investigations were launched. Jenner ducked the question but sputtered back that "no political motives whatsoever" had influenced the decision.

"Then why," asked Myers, "were reports released to the press just before the election?"

"Oh," fumbled Jenner, "the newspapers were piling up on us."

Myers also demanded an explanation from the committee's chief counsel, Nelson Deranian, who had been quoted in the press that same day as planning to rush the investigations in order to finish before the Democrats came into control. Deranian was put in this key committee spot by Bob Lyons of KKK and chain-store fame, the man who engineered Jenner's election to the Senate.

Deranian had no adequate explanation for the newspaper stories, but he did give the committee a verbal report on each case. From the Oklahoma file, Deranian pulled out affidavits charging that Senator-elect Bob Kerr had spent more than the legal limit in his campaign.

Myers asked whether the committee had inquired into the law or consulted the attorney-general for an opinion. He pointed out that Kerr might not be responsible for expenditures which he knew nothing about.

Deranian admitted the committee had not explored the law.

Note — What Republicans are worried about is that the Democrats will really dig into the Michigan election returns of their colleague, Sen. Homer Ferguson.

Truman Troubles.

ALTHOUGH the Democratic election sweep may stop the GOP-led Senate expenditures committee from skeleton hunting in the administration's closets, President Truman won't be able to breathe easily long.

For the Senate expenditures committee will be inherited by Democratic senators never friendly to Truman. In the order of seniority, they are:

Senators John McClellan of Arkansas, James Eastland of Mississippi, an out-and-out Dixiecrat; Clyde Hoey of North Carolina, who has voted against most key Truman policies; Glen Taylor of Idaho, Henry Wallace's vice-presidential running-mate; A. Willis Robertson of Virginia, a member of the anti-Truman Byrd machine, and Herbert O'Connor of Maryland, a Republicrat.

These are the Democrats who will now be charged with keeping an eye on the executive departments.

Assignment: America

Not So 'Unbelievable'

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Whenever Hollywood comes up with a particularly spectacular "cloak and dagger" epic which arouses the wrath of the critics because of its unbelievable plot, certain American citizens scattered across the country and around the world leave the theaters in Peoria and Prague chuckling to themselves.

They are laughing, not only at the movie, but also at the critics—for while that particular plot may strike them as ridiculous, they know that the theory that it is too improbable to be true is even more ridiculous.

No other single phase of American peacetime preparedness has developed so rapidly during the past three postwar years as our espionage and counter-espionage systems, according to experts in that field who once were highly critical of what they called our "amateurish activities."

Such experts say that, since foreign nations long since are well aware of our developments in the field, there is no reason to deny it at home—although they shun names and clamp down on revelation of techniques and methods.

But, to this reporter, who saw us constantly being outclassed in espionage and intelligence fields, both at home and aboard, during the early years of the war, an admission of progress from the system's erstwhile critics is a cheering thing.

And there have been experiences which pointed up the contrast, indicating that we have at last turned "pro" in a highly professional league.

The old picture was disheartening. During and shortly after the war in Europe, I was patriotically embarrassed several times when "American secret agents" were pointed out quite casually to me by bartenders, barbers and the like in three or four major Western European capitals. More than that, I soon discovered that a great many of our operatives were quite easily identifiable, even to me. To intrigue-trained Europeans, they often were as stumbling children.

* * *

Quite a Difference

BY CONTRAST, our allies—for the most part—were startlingly effective, partially because they were operating in their own back yard, so to speak, and partially because they had the benefit of several centuries of trial-and-error in such matters.

In Rome, for example, in May of 1944, certain British agents sat at the bar of the Grand Hotel, sipping brandy-and-soda while German general officers were frantically packing and scuttling back and forth across the lobby in preparation for evacuation. Sometimes they even offered "helpful" flight suggestions to the harried high Wehrmacht brass.

By contrast, partially because of language and custom difficulties, and partially because of an open temperament unsuited to intrigue, many of our intelligence operatives might as well have worn Keystone cop uniforms—except when they were recruited within their native lands.

However, toward the war's end we began to learn from both our enemies and our allies, and today, according to the men who should know, we are at least holding our own with the rest of the world in intelligence activities—for perhaps the first time in history.

This correspondent has reason to believe in the improvement of our world intelligence system from personal experience. Early this year, I spent some time in Europe and the Middle-East, during which time I visited highly secret refugee underground escape points and certain hidden resistance organization headquarters.

I was taken there as a reporter—"perhaps impartial, but not trustworthy" one guide told me—and twice was blindfolded enroute. Long since cynical of all "staged shows," I still was impressed by the smooth secrecy effected.

Shortly after my return, I learned that one of our intelligence agencies already know the specific details of at least four of those carefully-arranged, highly-secret visits. And while the information gained had been previously published, the means by which it had been gained had not!

And not once, during all such trips, had I spotted a single soul who seemed even potentially an American agent.

It's eerie, but comforting.

Farmer's Diary

Just Turn To Luke 13:8

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE MODERN farmer needs no pitchforks to spread manure on his farm. A few movements of a lever from a tractor seat, and the heaviest, smelliest load of soggy stuff is on. The tractor draws it out to the field, and it is put off just as quickly—evenly spread upon the ground.

I rode with a friend, and we passed by a field where a farmer was unloading a line of manure at the brow of a hill. The air was heavy with the scent of it. "Do you enjoy that smell?" my friend asked, as I took a deep audible breath.

"Yes," I said. "It brings back the days when, as a boy, I helped haul high loads on a farm wagon with a loose plank floor. We unloaded by slipping out one plank and then another, letting the stuff slide through. We were barefoot, and our mother gave us lye soap and chased us up to the spring before we could come in for meals."

"What's about manure that makes it so wonderful," he wondered.

"It's the unused proteins, minerals, etc., that come from the best food for animals. Bacteria are there, and hormones and mineral elements. Putting back on the land what the crops have removed, as far as possible, keeps the fertility of the land, or even builds it."

"Did farmers always know of the value of manure?"

"Liberty Hyde Bailey, who I think was the greatest agriculturist to date, used to quote the Bible on it. Luke 13:8—Jesus' parable of the fig tree in the vineyard, where the caretaker begged, that the fig tree be not cut down —"Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it and dung it.'"

"But don't you think the dung idea can be overdone."

"In parts of China, the earth is foul with excrement—I have read. It seems that balance in everything is what is most valuable everywhere. There is danger in too much commercial fertilizer, too. Preponderance of calcium or nitrates or any other element may be dangerous to plants and to the people who eat them. It is even said to be true that a man's body is attuned to the electrical adjustments of his native soil."

"Hm! Where does farming come to an end, anyway? It seems to be hitched up with electronics, even! Used to be any hick could pitch manure — now farming's becoming respectable—hm!"

"There have always been some folks who lived contentedly and reverently upon little farms. Perhaps they had the best of it."

"Perhaps," he agreed thoughtfully.

One Man's Opinion

TURKEY prices are at a 15-year high . . . so is housewives' indignation.

Many a man who looks for turkey on the table this Thanksgiving will get the bird from his wife instead of the butcher.

But we have much to be thankful for this year . . . our national income is high and our national outgo is enormous.

We are so prosperous that we are practically broke . . . It's an odd situation when a bird in the hand is worth two weeks salary.

And I hear Santa won't even budge his sleigh this year unless we put two dollars on the nose of each reindeer.

As Cerf Tells It

When Mischa Elman made his triumphal debut at Carnegie Hall, the rapurous audience demanded encore after encore. Finally his father whispered to him, "Make the next one quick, Mischa. The bank closes in twenty minutes."

Peanuts appear on the housewife's shelves in several other forms than in their native shells, in candy and peanut butter. They are used to make oleo, soap, glue, paper, chili sauce, ink, salve and cooking oils.

Red Agents Holding Key Orient Spots

Moscow Duplicates Jap Domination

TOKYO, — (INS) — Communists today hold roughly the same territory of continental Asia that the Japanese held in 1938 when they began their drive to dominate Asia and the world.

The military men sent to the Far East by the western democracies realize this and are becoming more and more frustrated as communism spreads across the seething, hungry expanse of the Orient.

The military men see Soviet Russia and her communist allies gaining tremendous power in moves which the western allies have been unable to halt.

The military men see two important differences in the position of Russia today and Japan 10 years ago, however. They are:

1. Japan had a navy which permitted quick aggressive thrusts by sea. Russia has no navy and is tied to the relatively slower-paced movement by land.

2. Japan gained sway through her own army and navy, over which she had complete control. Russia, expanding the cheap way, is gaining dominance through the successes of non-Russian communists of sometimes dubious loyalty to the ideological cause.

The Russians themselves apparently recognize the danger that communist successes in Asia may not be Russian successes.

They have taken steps which could be interpreted to be safeguards against a Tito-like split in the Orient.

They have sent Moscow-trained Chinese to balance the power of the communist leaders who have not been to Russia.

They have sent Russians to act as political observers in the dominated nations adjacent to the Soviet itself.

In China the communist who is closest to Moscow is Li-San now a member of the communist political committee which controls Harbin in Manchuria. He is either the only Chinese member of the committee, or the only important Chinese member.

In the key areas Russians themselves take over the political supervision.

In Korea more than 100 Russians are reportedly being left behind the withdrawing troops to serve as political commissars.

Mysterious 'Thing' Again Roams Along Suwanee River

CROSS CITY, Fla.— (AP) —The "thing" is on the loose again. Its mysterious footprints are causing excitement along the Suwanee river.

Is it a publicity gag? Are the tracks from some strange monster? So far no one has the answer.

Last spring the thing's weird 15-inch tracks popped up at half a dozen Pinellas county gulf beaches. The largest crop of tracks has attracted New York newspaper and radio men. Two Florida papers have sent out reporters-turned-zoologists.

Plaster casts have been made of the tracks. Scientific studies are underway.

Right now all agree if the prints found along the Suwanee are fakes then the animal-wise person who planted them is pretty smart.

Writing in Sunday's St. Petersburg Times, reporter-explorer Dick Bothwell who has been inclined to pooh pooh the whole matter, says you begin to wonder after talking to New York science commentator Ivan T. Sanderson of station WNBC.

Sanderson ought to know what he's talking about, writes Bothwell. He's roamed the world looking for strange specimens. He's been on five expeditions since 1932. He has collected 42 new species.

Sanderson isn't saying yes or no about these three-toed prints. But he does say similar prints have shown about the world from time to time in recent years—Australia, the Ganges river in India.

Bothwell analyzes the mystery of the thing with:

"To make those prints by hand would be a terrific job. But if a machine of some sort did the trick, who went to all the trouble, and why?

And there wasn't a human track around.

500,000 GI's Face Cash Loss

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Some 500,000 ex-GI's may be out of luck when the veterans administration pays service insurance dividends.

It was disclosed today that the VA may withhold all or part of the checks of two groups of World War II veterans. They are veterans who have received overpayments for education or training subsistence, and those who have defaulted on GI loans.

Assistant Veterans Administrator Frank W. Kelsey said there are now about 600,000 veterans who have been overpaid for subsistence, ahd have not made refunds.

Claims Truman Used Taft-Hartley Act As Decoy Issue In Campaign

As a matter of fact, I never thought much of the Taft-Hartley law myself and if President Truman had opposed it for its real faults, I would have agreed with him. It is too long. Too much language. Doesn't go far enough. But in calling it a slave labor law and echoing many other self-serving lies of the most dangerous predators in American history, the President appealed to the almost indomitable stupidity of the electorate and took advantage of them.

It is a commentary on the vaunted intelligence of the American citizen that Mr. Truman didn't have to debate the facts of the Taft-Hartley Act and the monstrosity of American unionism to the extend of a single paragraph. Why? Because Dewey was scared off by the bad reputation that the professional racketeers of unionsim had attached to the names of Taft and Hartley. Because a lie has become truth-to very-many-Americans who cherished a dull, dumb superstition that the Wagner Act was pro-labor and that anything done to impair it was anti-labor.

Dewey was afraid to go against the great power of that lie. He knew that in a debate in support of Taft-Hartley he would have to make demands on the intellectual process of the people. His conduct showed that he knows they either can't or won't make the effort to discriminate between lies and truth. Thus Truman could speak freely.

The candidate hasn't yet appeared who had the candor to tell the people that he would refrain from analyzing an issue because they were too stupid and lazy to weigh the facts.

★

MERE OPINION has no place in the struggle of the superior, law abiding element of the American population against the brutality, larceny and oppression of the union movement. Ask me for an example and I will say Taft is a superior man. Dubinsky inferior. Herbert Hoover superior. Dan Tobin, of the teamsters, a reproach to the system of government that tolerates him. In unionism we have a plain issue of right and wrong and anyone who is willing to debate or compromise virtue is immoral. Those who are willing include many politically callow clergy. On the whole these parsons are ignorant meddlers. They know, at least, that no man has a right to inflict on many men the persecutions that all unions visit on helpless citizens all the time. They know that is wrong. But they had got caught flat-footed after years of preoccupation with formalities, rigmarole, prohibition and bingo. They plumped for unionism because the communists had got there first and were making time with American labor. The clergy were trying to redress the effects of their neglect, but the most charitable explanation of their conduct is that they don't know what they are talking about.

Mr. Truman adopted without change the propaganda published by the union bosses at the expense of the fifteen million tithers in our unions. The burden of this refrain was that the Taft-Hartley Law was a union busting law. If it had been a union buster I would have campaigned for it myself because unionism is a civic parasite and corruption ravenous and foul. It has no leaders but only bosses ruling by power, patronage and graft.

The president's campaign on his Taft-Hartley fallacy in the guise of an issue was good politics by the cynical standards which are now the standards of almost all the people. Even learned men on the Republican side were so far corrupted that they chuckled at Truman's threatrical fury over a mere phrase put on his lips by the press-agents of the gangsters. The thing to do was to infuriate the voters over a decoy issue. Had Mr. Truman stuck to the facts he would have found himself boring them with explanations of the law's clauses and finally putting them to sleep with the unexciting truth that it was, on the whole, clumsy and impractical.

Amvets Ask National Bonus Later

Say Payment Now Aids Inflation

The Robert P. Spreng Post 26, Amvets last night voted in favor of a national bonus. However, they asked that any such bonus be paid later, holding that a bonus now would further inflation.

The action was taken in response to a poll sent out by the national Amvets organization to local posts. The poll is to be used as the basis for establishment of the Amvets national policy.

The proposed bonus should be paid on the basis of service from Sept. 16, 1940, to Dec. 31, 1946, the members decided. The dates were set to include National Guardsmen who went on active duty in 1940.

They also voted to urge Congress to pass legislation to cub inflation including such measures as continuance of credit controls, rent control, additional anti-monopoly laws, ceilings on essential living products, and government allocation of scarce materials.

The Amvets also voted a $25 contribution to the Volunteers of America, appointed Don Finefrock as Amvet representative to the Red Cross blood bank meeting to be held Wednesday, and adopted a resolution to thank Della Cochran, retiring Soldiers Relief Commission official.

Fox Bounties Total $1,422

Bounties paid for foxes by the county so far in 1948 total $1,422, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said today. Since each fox is paid for at the rate of $3, that means that 474 foxes have been killed in the county as of Nov. 5.

Persons who kill the foxes in the county turn the four paws over to the sheriff's office.

This year's bounties are running well ahead of last year, when 426 foxes were killed and $1,278 was paid out by the county during the entire year.

One man, having killed 23 foxes in a period of two weeks, received $69. Another man killed 15 and was paid $45.

Plans for advertising the bond issue will be made. Before bids can be opened the bond sale must be advertised for 30 days.

At the same meeting the board will open bids on furnishing stage installations. Bids are being submitted for furnishing and installing stage curtain equipment in the Roseland, West Fifth, and Newman Elementary schools The three schools are currently under construction.

Death Takes Mrs. Leonard

Former Teacher Dies In Cleveland

Mrs. Julia Putnam Leonard, 70, a former Mansfield resident and mother of W. Calvin Leonard, 33 Western avenue, died Monday at the Gahann Nursing home in Cleveland following a two-year illness.

Mrs. Leonard was born in Massillon in 1878, the daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Albert Bronson Putnam. Her father was for a number of years rector of the Emanuel Episcopal church in Cleveland.

Until two years ago, Mrs. Leonard was house mother for the Nurses' home at Mt. Sinai hospital in Cleveland. Prior to going to Cleveland, she had lived in Gambier where she taught music in the Harcourt school and in the schools of Knox county.

A short time before her death, Mrs. Leonard had made provision to have her eyes given to a Cleveland eye bank for use in the delicate cornea operation.

Surviving Mrs. Leonard, besides her son, is one daughter, Mrs. William A. Osborne of St. Louis; two grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Thomas E. Thurston of Swampscott, Mass.

Funeral services will be held at the Emanuel church, 8614 Euclid avenue, Cleveland, Wednesday at 2 p. m. Arrangements are in charge of the Hill and Knoulton funeral home of Cleveland.

Rut Blamed As Car Hits Mail Boxes

An auto was damaged and four mail boxes were knocked down in a mishap on Grace street, just outside the city limits, yesterday. The hazardous condition of the pavement was blamed.

The accident, which occurred in Madison township, was reported to sheriff's deputies at 5 p. m. yesterday by M. G. Bachman, Ashland, R. D. 4. Bachman told deputies he was traveling east on Grace street when his car hit a "bad hole" in the street, just east of Fifth avenue. The deep rut caused him to lose control of his car, he said.

Bachman agreed to take care of damages to the mail boxes.

The boys will discuss their experiences at Boys' State and a luncheon will be served during the evening.

John Stout, teacher at Senior high school, was in charge of the group of boys who made the trip.

Bricklayers Push Work On New F-H

By NITA BRANSON

There's a good chance that Mansfield's new Friendly House building will be under roof before cold, stormy weather sets in—the kind that would prevent outside labor.

Workers on the project on North Mulberry street said that in three weeks' time, if the weather continues favorable, the building should be under roof. After that winter's icy blasts won't make much difference to carpenters and workmen and the building should go along rapidly.

This progress has been made possible because of the active interest of members of the Bricklayers union, No. 31, who have promised to give extra time to the laying of the tan and cream colored brick that will quickly enclose the building on North Mulberry street.

When the lack of bricklayers forced delay in the erection of the settlement house, Russell Gimbel, director, had a heart-to-heart talk with members of the union. The men agreed to work Saturdays to speed the construction.

"The union's response to the appeal was most gratifying," Gimbel said. "It was unanimously approved by the entire membership."

Last Saturday nine members of this union went to work in spite of the cold, drizzling rain, laying bricks on the second story.

Next Saturday, a dozen more are expected to take up where their nine fellow members left off last Saturday. On Nov. 27, there will be about the same number reporting, with a number from Shelby who are members of the local union. After that, Gimbel thinks, the building should move along quickly and be ready for the Friendly House boys and girls next spring.

"What makes this offer of the bricklayers even more generous," Gimbel explained, "is that the men are working straight instead of asking double time ordinarily charged for overtime work. As an additional contribution to the Friendly House the money earned by these union members will be accumulated in their local treasury and later turned over to the Friendly House to equip a room in the new building in their name.

"This is a fine gesture and the men should be given a great deal of credit for their share in helping get the new building done. It can scarcely be valued in dollars and cents, because it will mean that because of their work, the project will be almost on schedule."

Among the union members who are giving their Saturday time to this project is a man who is building his own house and whose brother has been helping him on Saturdays. But they both want to contribute, so the bricklayer working on his own home is giving two days of his regular work week at Friendly House.

In addition to the union bricklayers, there are others just as generous, Gimbel said.

Laborers worked last Saturday so that the bricklayers could speed up their part of the project, and late Friday men from the Mansfield Structural Steel company worked to put up a beam needed for the bricklaying job Saturday.

Doctors Give Pupil Advice

Dr. R. K. Pollock, Mansfield dentist, and Dr. R. P. Scott, Mansfield physician, were the speakers at a parents meeting at Country Day school last night.

Dr. Pollock, assisted by Miss Emily Burns, discussed the structure of the teeth and the value of early dental care. He stressed the prevention of decay by diet and fluoride treatment.

Dr. Scott discussed immunization, health laws, and the common cold. He emphasized the necessity of cod liver oil for all children.

Mrs. Roger Black introduced the speakers in the absence of the president, Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard.

It was announced students will present a Book Week program at the school at 2 p. m. Thursday. Parents were invited to attend the program.

Friday students and teachers of Harcourt Place school in Gambier will visit the school, it was announced.

Refreshments and a social hour closed the meeting.

T. Lutz Files Vote Expense

Prosecutor Theodore Lutz, who was defeated for re-election, spent $867 in his campaign, his report filed with the county board of elections, shows. He listed no contributions.

The Springfield township Mothers' club listed contributions of $15 and expenditures in the same amount in advertising the school mill levy which passed.

The Political Action committee of the Delano lodge, United Steel Workers, reported contributions of $266, received through advertising in a year book, and expenditures in the same amount.

Up and Down the Street . . .

HE'S GOT PROOF—

One person who yesterday submitted a $2.90 claim for car damage believes in presenting evidence to back up his claim. Milt Preiss submitted a bill which listed his name, and the fact that the damage to a hub cap occurred on East Fourth street. And to prove it, he attached the bill with scotch tape to the hub cap. The council clerk is having a hard time trying to figure where to file the dented hub cap. One councilman remarked that he was glad Preiss hadn't damaged a fender.

Council Acts On Transfers

Wading through 20 pieces of legislation, city council last night appropriated $35,925 and transferred $3,409 for various departments to carry them through to the first of the year.

The appropriations included $23,000 for the water department, $8,700 for the street department, $250 for the police department, and $200 for the municipal court.

The rapidly rising costs of municipal administration were cited by Councilman Charles N. Shultz as the reason for setting up an additional $15,000 for the water department to pay electric power bills for the remainder of the year. He blamed the increase in coal costs for the hiked electric power rates.

Under the contract between the Ohio Public Service company and the city, rates can fluctuate according to the rise or fall in the price of coal.

YULE LIGHTS OK'D

Council appropriated $225 to provide power for the Christmas decorations to be strung around Central park from Thanksgiving to New Year's day under the sponsorship of the Retail Merchants association.

For the purchase of comprehensive insurance for city mechanical and electrical equipment and boilers, council appropriated $3,550.

Transfers, none of which exceeded $1,000, were made in the water, street, garbage, park and police departments.

Council authorized the service-safety director to sell two 1931 Ford dump trucks used by the garbage department and a 1936 Plymouth used by the park department.

The city solicitor was authorized to apply to court to impanel a jury to make inquiries into and access compensation for a strip of land nine feet wide and 190 feet long on lot 7869 on First avenue needed by the sewer department.

For Wednesday, November 17

THE indications are for a day of frustration, postponement or perhaps stagnation or congestions, in which it may take positive determination to overcome all, static or difficult situations. With well-organized effort and attention to detail and system, some lasting security or firm foundation could be laid for future progress. The physical health should be a matter for wise consideration.

IF It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a trying period in which static, congested, blocked or frustrated situations could be depressing and disappointing, although the determined and concentrated marshalling of assets and experience could possibly turn the tide toward lasting security and firm groundwork for development. Serious thinking, sound techniques, with detail and system shrewdly taken into account, assure stable and enduring progress. In all obstacles, fortitude and courage may turn disaster into discipline Build on futures.
